JFK, MIKOYAN TALK 3 HOURS

—NEHRU'S FORCES CAN CONCENTRATE ON RED CHINA—

India And Pakistan Agree To Seek End To Quarrel

New Delhi (AP)—India and Pakistan agreed Friday to seek an end to their bitter quarrel over Kashmir, permitting Indian military forces to concentrate on the Himalayan border conflict with Red China.

The Red Chinese, meanwhile, accused India of armed provocation by sending troop reinforcements to the mountain cease-fire line and indicated communist guns were still at the ready despite a Peking promise to start pulling back Saturday.

India' 15-year dispute with Pakistan had become troublesome for Indian armed forces in the undeclared border war with the Chinese. India kept large numbers of troops on the Pakistani border against the possibility of a renewal of fighting over Kashmir.

Pulled Out

Informed sources reported, however, that India already has pulled out most of its troops on the Pakistani border and shipped them to Himalayan battle areas.

The agreement with Pakistan for a resumption of negotiations in the near future will help strengthen India's hand further for any renewal of fighting with the Chinese. It now can relax its guard on the Pakistani border.

The agreement may also result in a diplomatic blow to Peking. The Red Chinese have been feeding on anti-American criticism in Pakistan over arms shipments to India and have been making promises of deals in an effort to steer Pakistan out of the Western camp.

After Confabs

A 91-word communique announcing the agreement came after Assistant Secretary of State W. Averell Harriman and Duncan Sandys, Britain's secretary for commonwealth relations, went through a hectic series of conferences with Prime Minister Nehru and President Mohammed Ayub Khan of Pakistan.

While Harriman conferred with Ayub Khan Thursday at the Pakistani capital, Rawalpindi, Sandys flew from there to New Delhi for a quick talk with Nehru, then back again.

Reliable sources said Sandys did most of the talking in the mediation effort. Harriman and other U.S. officials were kept informed throughout, the sources said.

British Ruled

The British ruled India and Pakistan before both these countries emerged from old British India after World War II. Since then, Britain has had close ties with both.

The communique issued jointly here and in Rawalpindi said both countries decided to start talks "so as to enable them to live side by side in peace and friendship."

In Rawalpindi, Harriman told newsmen:

"I am very happy about this agreement and I hope that the present circumstances will make it possible for both sides to come to an agreement satisfactory to each."

The communique said:

"The president of Pakistan and the prime minister of India have agreed that a renewed effort should be made to resolve outstanding differences between their two countries on Kashmir and other related matters to enable India and Pakistan live side by side in peace and friendship.

"In consequence they have decided to start discussions at an early date with the object of reaching an honorable and equitable settlement.

"These will be conducted initially at ministerial level. At the appropriate stage direct talks will be held between Mr. Nehru and President Ayub."

This young fawn, nicknamed "Heyyou" shows off her leaping talent by scaling chairs at the home of Jack Hanson, Minneapolis, Minn. Hanson found the deer while on a fishing trip in northern Minnesota this summer. The deer was mired in mud. Unable to find its mother, Hanson took the fawn doe home where it became a pet. Now that the deer hunting season is over, Hanson has returned the 60-pound baby to its natural surroundings on a farm in northern Minnesota.

Cuban Dispute Still Smolders

...No Real Progress Seen

Washington (AP) — President Kennedy and Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan conferred at length Thursday on issues remaining in the way of a final Cuban settlement, but White House sources reported they made no genuine progress.

For about 3¼ hours, Kennedy and Mikoyan concentrated on problems stemming from differences over a final agreement on Cuba.

Afterward, a White House spokesman and Mikoyan both said representatives of both sides would continue negotiating in New York. As Mikoyan put it, they would negotiate "to finally settle the Cuban question."

If he meant a final settlement was in immediate view, U.S. officials were less optimistic.

White House Press Secretary Pierre Salinger issued this statement:

"The President and Mr. Mikoyan reviewed a number of matters of common interest, with the principal attention focused on the problem of Cuba. They agreed that, as a follow-up of this meeting, conversations would continue in New York between Ambassador (Adlai) Stevenson, Mr. (John J.) McCloy and Mr. (Vassily) Kuznetsov."

The statement referred to the men directly involved in working out a Cuban solution. The United States says any satisfactory solution must include inspection on the ground in Cuba to verify that all Soviet offensive weapons have been removed and no new missiles or jet planes will be delivered.

Government sources said no real progress had been made in individual issues, paramount among them the lack of agreement on U.N. inspection on the site in Cuba.

No Surprises

These sources said that, from the U.S. standpoint, the meeting provided no surprises. This could have reflected a measure of disappointment. The President has recently described this period as possibly an important turning point in the direction the world is moving.

The atmosphere in the unusually lengthy meeting was described as frank and businesslike, lacking any air of tension. U.S. officials retained the belief that some progress had been made on the Cuban problem before Mikoyan arrived at the White House late in the afternoon. But they said afterward a number of points have yet to be resolved.

Kennedy and Mikoyan, No. 2 man in the Soviet government, spent a little time on differences between Washington and Moscow on nuclear test and disarmament agreements, and dwelt briefly on the situation in Laos. White House informants maintained there was no discussion of Berlin.

Mikoyan lunches Friday with Sceretary of State Dean Rusk, but government officials said he has no other meeting scheduled with Kennedy. The result of Mikoyan's two-day visit to Washington, after 24 days in Cuba, apparently was to shuttle negotiations back to the United Nations.

Mikoyan told newsmen through an interpreter that he had talked with the President on matters "concerning our two countries," chiefly about the Cuban problem.

Work At Lockheed Resumes

Burbank, Calif. (AP) — Striking union workers at giant Lockheed Aircraft Corp. returned to their jobs Thursday at government request, ending a two-day walkout. But they said the dispute that caused the strike is far from over.

The work-resumption agreement came after President Kennedy invoked the Taft-Hartley law Wednesday and set up a special board to study the months-long contract squabble.

The board was ordered to report to the President by Monday its findings in the bitter battle involving critical defense work.

Both management and the AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists avoided direct mention of the dispute's central issue, the union shop, when announcing the work resumption starting with the swing shift.

But they left little doubt of its continued importance.

Lockheed vice president John E. Canaday, told a news conference the company feels it will win its fight not to put the question to a vote. The union shop if approved by a two-thirds majority of all workers would make it necessary for them all to join the union. A presidential commission recommended earlier in the year that the issue be put to a vote.

"This same issue was the major issue in 3 (Lockheed) strikes before," Canaday said, "and agreement was reached anyway."

Pickets, bundled up against the chill morning air, clustered around IAM headquarters after the back to work announcement.

Time, Money Needed For Tourism—Steen

By BETTY PERSON
Star Staff Writer

"It's going to take at least a decade to develop tourist business in Nebraska," State Game Commission Director Mel Steen told Gov. Frank Morrison Thursday in explaining his 1963-65 budget request for $8.9 million, an increase of $2.2 million over esitmated expenditures this biennium.

Included in the request are an additional $842,000 for personal services, about $1 million more for capital improvements, and some $280,000 more for operating expenses.

The only general fund money the commission receives is for tourist promotion, and Steen has asked for $261,681 for this purpose for the coming biennium, more than a ten-fold increase over the $25,000 it received for promotion for 1961-63.

Special Levy, Fees

The remainder of the funds come from licenses, fees, cash funds and federal reimbursements, plus the .30 of a mill special levy for capital improvements of the state's parks.

Steen said the 10-year capital improvement program involves about 100 projects, including the chain of lakes long the Interstate Highway.

The cost of developing these capital improvements, the need for personnel to staff them, and the necessity of promoting the state's attractions in order to get people here to help support them are all linked together and necessitate the commission's budget request, he said.

More Examiners

State Motor Vehicles Department Director B. H. G. Eiting told the governor that a substantial share of the increase he is seeking for the next biennium would go toward employment of additional drivers license examiners.

He is asking for $1,100,414, about $89,000 more than was appropriated to the department this biennium.

Eiting said he would "strongly endorse" a compulsory driver's license re-examination bill if it is introduced in the 1963 Legislature.

Sen. Marvin E. Stromer of Lincoln is having such a bill drafted.

The director also said he believes the next session "must" change the driver's license renewal date to coincide with the licensee's birthday. All licenses now are renewable at one time.

Eiting also said he would like to have an auditor within the department who could check procedures under the state's truck reciprocity laws. He said he was certain that such a person could add from $15,000 to $50,000 annually to the state's coffers in enforcement of these laws.

He also called for central issuance of motor vehicle titles, and drivers' licenses—rather than their being handled in each of the counties as they are now.

Hemingford Man Dies Of Injuries

Alliance (AP) — A 73-year-old Hemingford rancher died Thursday of injuries suffered in a two-car accident in Alliance Tuesday night.

He was Ernest W. Purdum. Purdum and his sister, 76-year-old Hope Roberts, were thrown from their car.

The accident raised the Nebraska traffic toll to 362. It was 297 at this date last year.

Rurals Ready To Settle Power Suits

Columbus (AP) — Representatives of 27 rural public power districts serving the eastern two-thirds of Nebraska voted unanimously Thursday to settle pending public power litigation if such settlements are approved by other public power agencies involved.

In adopting a resolution recommending such settlement, the group took notice of criticism by the Legislative Council committee on public power of failure to settle the litigation.

The resolution also noted that the Legislative Council committee had recommended legislation that would establish a consolidated single generation and transmission district in the eastern two-thirds of the state, excluding the Omaha area.

Rural districts, acting through the Nebraska Rural Electric Assn., are on record in favor of such a plan.

Provisions Deleted

The resolution said also that since the rurals had confidence that the legislature would enact corrective legislation, that the rurals had agreed to the deletion from their contracts of provisions providing for rural representation on the board of managers of the Nebraska Public Power System, and also the deletion of the commitment by the Loup River Public Power District and Platte Valley Public Power and Irrigation District to merge, consolidate or reorganize.

One phase of the litigation to be settled relates to 28 lawsuits filed by Loup and Platte districts against the individual rurals and Consumers Public Power District to collect a rate increase which NPPS contended was effective Sept. 1, 1959, but which the rurals contended was invalid and unjustified, and which the rurals and Consumers refused to pay.

Loup and Platte districts then filed suit to collect the

Smart Machine To Best Man

. . . BIOLOGIST CAUTIONS: 'DON'T BE AFRAID'

There's very little doubt in the thinking of Dr. Merrill M. Flood that in the future intelligent machines will out perform man at most tasks now requiring human intelligence.

The native Nebraskan, professor of mathematical biology at the University of Michigan, told a University of Nebraska audience Thursday evening:

"We've learned to convert energy to our purposes, thus minimizing the importance of human brawn, but are only beginning to learn how to change entropy to our purposes, eventually minimizing the importance of human brain."

Speaking as NU's annual Avery lecturer, Dr. Flood listed some examples of intellectual tasks in which he believed new kinds of machines may eventually out perform man:

—Translate from one natural language to another.

—Compose a symphony.

—Discover and prove important new mathematical theorems.

And what is left for man?

Relieved of many of its present demanding intellectual functions, the human race can finally have "time and incentive to learn how to live well together," Dr. Flood predicted.

But again, he said, there exists a lack of theory of social relationships adequate to enable us to solve these most important social problems.

Then he mused: "Fortunately, intelligent machines are helping us in the scientific work to understand and to develop proper theories of economics, psychology, sociology and international relations."

Comforting his audience from time to time with the assurances that intelligent machines are not a threat to us now or in the future, Dr. Flood explained that the technological basis for current developments relevant to intelligent machines is essentially electrical and mechanical.

In Contrast

This is in contrast with chemical and biological possibilities, he said.

Dr. Flood predicted that a machine with an "associational memory" — one that will store and interpret information in terms of previous experiences and retrieve the facts — will be invented before too many years.

But he didn't anticipate that this invention could parallel biological organisms — "just as we are not surprised that jet airplanes fly in a manner different from that used by birds."

McGovern Leads In So. Dak. Count

Pierre, S.D. (UPI) — Former Food for Peace Director George S. McGovern led by 269 votes Thursday in the recount of his bid to unseat Republican Sen. Joseph H. Bottum.

Fifty-one of 67 counties completed recounts as at least 1,622 votes were thrown out, 763 of which were McGovern's and 859 were Bottum's. Unofficial totals by United Press International gave McGovern 127,761 and Bottum 127,492.

Morrison Reappoints Misko And Barrett

Gov. Frank Morrison announced Thursday he is reappointing State Insurance Director Frank Barrett and State Banking Director Ralph Misko to serve during the second term of his administration.

The announcement marked the first disclosure Morrison has made of department heads he will have with him during his coming term. All such appointments must be confirmed by the 1963 Legislature.

High in his praise of both code department officers, he described them as having been part of a "vital and important team effort which the people endorsed in the last election."

Morrison said Barrett, in the relatively short time he has served, has "risen to be one of the most highly respected insurance directors in the United States, and has the universal confidence of the insurance industry."

One of Youngest

A Democrat, Barrett, at 30 years of age, is one of the youngest insurance directors in the country.

As for Misko, a Republican, Morrison said he would like to compliment him for a number of things, but "particularly for his efforts in trying to work out the reorganization of the Gresham Bank" in which bank examiners found a shortage of some $500,000.

Morrison said he was "confident" the reorganization "can be done so none of the depositors lose any money." Agreements are now being drafted, he noted, adding that "apparently the only thing remaining to be done is to work out Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation approval."

He also said that the department is taking "precautionarly steps against a recurrence of this situation which happened at Gresham."

"Another thing Misko's tenure points out," Morrison continued, "is that there is no reason why a Republican who puts the interest of his state above the more narrow aspirations of partisanship cannot serve this administration with the same degree of effectiveness as a member of the Democratic Party."

The governor said his interpretation of the "re-election of this administration" was "not as any personal victory for Frank B. Morrison," but an "endorsement of the team effort" of those who served with him.

He said he thought it was "quite a tribute to men such as Barrett and Misko that they will undertake public service at salaries considerably below what they could receive in private industry."

340,000 Men Mustered To Handle Cuba

POSSIBLE INVASION READIED

Thousands Of U.S. Warplanes Enrolled

Washington (AP)—An aroused United States mustered about 340,000 fighting men, thousands of warplanes and hundreds of Navy ships to deal with the communist threat in Cuba, it was disclosed Thursday.

Five Army paratroop, infantry and tank divisions and parts of two Marine divisions were ticketed to invade Cuba if a decision had been made to go that far.

The Defense Department released a roundup of Cuban crisis actions which gave a picture of the scope of military preparations. Some important details were kept secret.

Advance Alert Status

The roundup showed, among other things, that:

—More than 100,000 officers and men in the crack Strategic Army Corps were placed on advance alert status in mid-October, during the early stages of the crisis.

The Pentagon identified only the 1st Armored Division as in the alerted force, but informed sources said 4 other divisions also were primed for possible movement.

These were the 82nd Airborne at Ft. Bragg, N.C., the 101st Airborne at Ft. Campbell, Ky., the 2nd Infantry Division at Ft. Benning, Ga., and the 1st Infantry at Ft. Riley, Kan.

—Perhaps 12,000 Marines were afloat with the fleet off Cuba or at the Guantanamo Naval Base in eastern Cuba Most were from the 2nd Marine Division based at Camp LeJeune, N.C., and the remainder were flown or moved by ship from the 1st Marine Division at Camp Pendleton, Calif.

Rushed To Guantanamo

The Pentagon disclosed Thursday night that some of the Marines rushed to Guantanamo at the outset of the crisis will begin to leave next week.

In answer to a question, a spokesman would say only that "elements will begin moving to their home stations next week." The spokesman gave no totals or identification of the units which will depart. Rumor was that two battalions, totaling about 1,200 men, might be in these first elements.

Before the crisis, Guantanamo had a garrison of about 400 Marines. But the garrison quickly reached a strength of more than 7,000 as units from both the east and west coasts arrived.

—The Air Force's Strategic Air Command (SAC) mounted what was described as a "massive airborne alert" of many of its 600 B52 heavy bombers, with the remainder of the B52s and about 1,000 B47 nuclear bombers kept on ground alert ready to take off within 15 minutes notice.

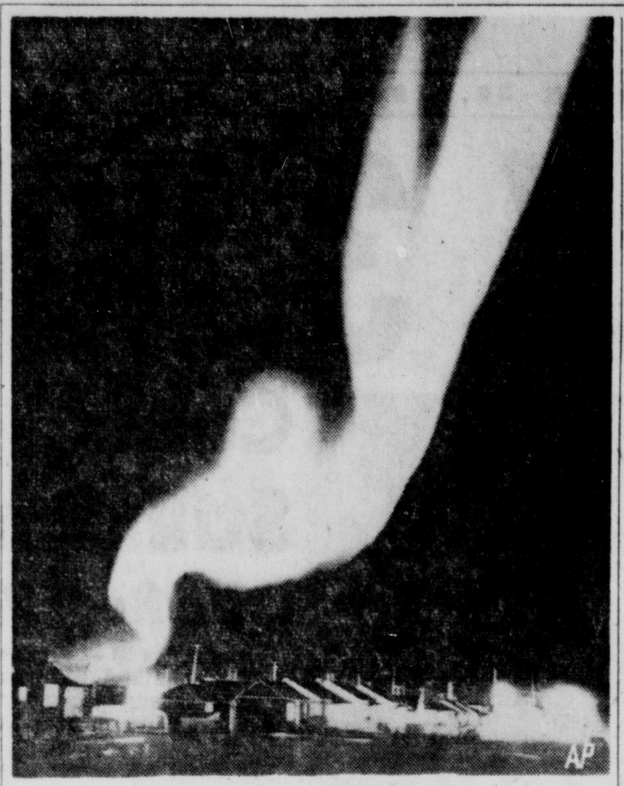

100,000 SAC Men Involved

The department estimated 100,000 SAC personnel, including air crews, maintenance and armament specialists, plus 20,000 security police and 6,000 refueling experts, were involved.

The roundup showed for the first time that SAC bombers joined Navy patrol planes in keeping watch on the 2,000 ships which were plying the Atlantic during the U.S. blockade. These bombers brought back several thousand feet of reconnaissance film.

—Perhaps 6,000 fliers and ground crew of the Tactical Air Command and the Air Defense Command were moved into the southeastern states, mainly to Florida.

—The crews of 144 intercontinental ballistic missiles were put on special alert.

Little Boys Need A Place To Play

So Scott Peter Turner, 7, Fires Off Letter To President; Udall Sympathizes

By W. JOYNES MacFARLAN

Washington (AP) — Finding his favorite lizard-hunting grounds taken for housing projects, 7-year-old Scott Peter Turner of San Diego, Calif., took pencil in hand and protested to President Kennedy.

"Dear Mr. President," his carefully hand-printed letter said, "We have no place to go when we want to go out in the canyon because there ar going to build houses so could you set aside some land where we could play? Thank you four listening. Love SCOTT."

Scott's father added an accompanying note to "emphasize the honest motivation which drove him (Scott) to seek help from the highest power of the land."

His son, he said, had gone to some previously open land to hunt lizards, only to find one area was occupied by a field restricted to organized play and beyond that other "canyon" had been preempted by home construction.

"In complete defeat, anger and frustration he ran home, demanded paper and pencil and put a determined hand to his letter of protest," Turner wrote.

"In building our progressive world of supervised play and sterilized playthings we seem to have forgotten that a youth needs trees and frogs and earth with ants in it—and time for uninterrupted observations of the path he treads. . .

"Isn't it nostalgically sad when, in an era of seemingly intellectual advancement and highly civilized progress, a little boy can't find a place to play?"

Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall made public Thursday his reply to Scott:

"The President sent your letter to me to answer because the feelings you expressed so well in your letter are his feelings too, and I am the man he has appointed to try to correct the conditions which are making you so unhappy.

"President Kennedy and I have a great awareness of the needs you feel — the need to be able to hunt lizards and follow ants and maybe just lie in the sun on your back and watch the changing shapes of clouds—all alone."

Udall noted that the 87th Congress established 3 new national seashores, including Point Reyes in California which has "wide sand beaches, wind-swept caves, forests . . . and lots of room for a wide-eyed boy."

"I am more sorry than I can say that you have lost your canyon playground," Udall concluded. "I hope you will be able to find another one not too far away."

Pope Much Improved

He Gets Out Of Bed And Walks About

Vatican City (AP) — Ailing Pope John XXIII was reported feeling much better Thursday night in his bout with "intense anemia" and even got out of bed for a few hours and walked about his apartment in the Apostolic Palace, high Vatican sources reported.

The Vatican had appealed to Roman Catholics around the world to pray for the 81-year-old Pontiff, who was proving a restless patient for his doctors.

The encouraging report that Pope John was able to get up and had no fever came after a communique disclosed officially for the first time that he had been stricken with intense anemia provoked by long-standing stomach trouble.

The tone of the communique clearly indicated concern about the Pope's illness among Vatican officials. But the aged ruler of the Roman Catholic church told his doctors — trying to persuade him to take it easy — that he wanted to get back to work.

Rumors circulated earlier in the week that the Pope might undergo surgery after the Ecumenical Council recesses Dec. 8. The rumors were denied by Vatican sources.

Pennsylvania Fire Claims 9

Renovo, Pa. (UPI) — Fire raged through a frame house in an isolated big game hunting area near here Thursday, wiping out 9 members of a single family.

Flames were sighted by two hunters camped about a quarter mile from the home of Walter Brown, 41. One tried to warn the occupants while the other ran to a nearby hotel to get help.

The victims were identified as Brown, an employe of a coal strip mining company, his wife, Wilma, 37, and their children, Arlene, 15; Leona, 13; Daniel, 10; Susan, 8, Linda, 7; Nancy, 5, and Rodaney, 3.

The couple has 3 other children who no longer lived in the two story home.

Cause of the blaze was not immediately determined.

Dual Front Turns State Wet, Foggy

Two frontal systems pushing into Nebraska Thursday gave rise to a fog cover over much of the state and light drizzle at various points.

And on Friday those same systems — a high pressure ridge running from New York to Texas causing southerly warm air to move into eastern Nebraska, and a cold front entering from the northwest — are expected to give Panhandle residents weather about 15 degrees colder than those in the east will experience.

Highs will be in the 50s in the east and central and from 35 to 45 in the Panhandle, all under mostly cloudy skies.

Thursday's state high was 60 at Omaha; the low was 32 at Sidney. Lincoln had 56 and 46.

Red Party Outlawed

. . . IN ALGERIA

Algiers (AP) — The Algerian republic recharted its course in world affairs Thursday by outlawing the Communist Party.

The decision, disclosed by Information Minister Mohamed Hadj Hamou at a news conference, appeared to mean a veering away from a pro-Eastern position to a more truly neutral policy, if not a somewhat pro-Western attitude.

It seemed to reflect realization within the leadership of the young republic that Algeria cannot count on the Eastern bloc for direly needed economic aid, but must rather look to the West, and above all to France, for help.

Hamou said the decision was reached several days ago by Premier Ahmed Ben Bella's government. Only recently, Ben Bella went out of his way to emphasize friendship for Cuban leader Fidel Castro, with laudatory statements and a visit to Havana.

The communist ban was announced on the eve of top-level negotiations between Algeria and France for large-scale financial and technical aid. Algerian Foreign Minister Mohammed Khemisti is flying to Paris Friday at the head of a large official delegation to open these negotiations.

It also came on the eve of a resumption of negotiations with the United States on an economic aid program. Contacts between Washington and Algiers on this were dropped following Ben Bella's visit to Havana and during the Cuban crisis.

Rolvaag To Seek Election Recount

St. Paul, Minn. (AP)—Minnesota's 23-day old vote snarl over electing a governor began to unravel Thursday when the state supreme court ordered the canvassing board to certify Republican Gov. Elmer L. Andersen the winner.

The board promptly carried out the court's order and loser Lt. Gov. Karl Rolvaag, Democrat, announced immediately he would seek a recount of the Nov. 6 election returns.

In recognizing Andersen the winner by a 142-vote margin, the supreme court honored county canvassing board recounts in 10 counties after their certified figures had been sent to the secretary of state.

Ex-Student At KU Dies On Gallows

Lansing, Kan. (Friday) (UPI) — Youthful Lowell Lee Andrews died on the gallows early Friday for the murder of his parents and sister.

Andrews went to the gallows at 12:21 a.m. CST and was pronounced dead by a physician 18 minutes later.

His death, the first state execution in Kansas since 1954, climaxed a long legal battle that continued until a few hours before his execution at the state penintentiary.

Andrews was sentenced to death for the brutal shooting murder of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William L. Andrews, and his sister, Jennie Marie Andrews, 20, at their home near Wolcott, Kan. The shootings occurred during the Thanksgiving holidays in 1958, while Andrews was home from the University of Kansas where he was a Junior.

Reclamation Plan Needs Selling Job—Aspinall

...'Nebraska Big Benefactor Despite Lack Of Support'

North Platte (AP)— Chairman Wayne N. Aspinall of the House Interior and Insular Affairs Committee declared Thursday night the federal reclamation program needs a selling job in Nebraska.

"Nebraska has benefited about as much as any state in the West from the reclamation program and stands to benefit even more in the future," the Colorado Democrat said.

Yet, said Aspinall, on the only two record votes in the House during the 87th Congress on reclamation projects the entire Nebraska delegation voted no. The 3 Nebraska House members, all of whom have been re-elected, are Republicans.

"Are the people of Nebraska against the reclamation program?" Aspinall asked in an address before the Nebraska State Irrigation and Reclamation Associations.

"Today, the inclusion of the reclamation program as an important segment of the over all water resources development task is being seriously challenged. Make no mistake about that," Aspinall said.

"The program is in jeopardy unless we can convince the American people that it has a necessary and important role in this national movement toward full comprehensive development of our water resources," he added.

"Why the reluctance to support this great program?" the Colorado Congressman asked. "Just since I became chairman of the Irrigation and Reclamation Subcommittee in the 84th Congress the committee has approved the Sargent, Farwell, Ainsworth and Red Willow units of the Missouri River basin project.

"Nebraska has benefited about as much as any state in the West from the reclamation program and stands to benefit even more in the future."

Aspinall said few single-purpose irrigation projects can pay all their costs today, yet in the national interest these should be developed.

"Large, multiple-purpose projects are the answer in areas such as the Missouri Basin. We have found that comprehensive planning and development result in savings in cost of all purposes served and that, by pooling project revenues, economically justified irrigation developments, which are not feasible standing alone, can go forward," he declared.

Cites Mid-State

"The experience of your Mid-State project is an example. As the Mid-State district directors will tell you, they tried to go it alone but, in the end, determined that they could not build their project without federal assistance."

"There is no reason," he added, "why Nebraska should not be among those states fully supporting the federal reclamation program."

Aspinall said the biggest problem now so far as the Missouri Basin project is concerned is getting the project operating "on a sound economic and financial basis.

"The Department of the Interior is presently studying ways and means of doing this and I am hopeful that we will have the department's recommendations by the first of the year."

Adams Credits Irrigation For Stabilization Of Crop Output

North Platte (AP) — Registration passed the 200 mark Thursday for the 70th annual meeting of the Nebraska Irrigation association and the 19th session of the Nebraska Reclamation Association.

A highlight of the Thursday afternoon program was an address on the economic benefits of irrigation to Nebraska by James C. Adams, North Platte, president of the irrigators.

"Today Nebraska has between 2.5 and 2.75 million acres under irrigation with a future possibility of at least another million more acres for which there is water," he said.

"Approximately one million acres are irrigated from canals and the remainder from wells," Adams said.

"At present one of the greatest economic benefits resulting from irrigation is stablization of crop production with its resultant direct and indirect benefits," he said.

In western Nebraska, he noted, sugar beets, dry edible beans, potatoes and alfalfa are the primary crops grown. All are relatively high acre-income producing crops and with the exception of alfalfa, a high standard of processing and marketing has been developed using local labor and local industries.

Power Plans Told

Gerald Gentleman, North Platte, general manager of the Platte Valley Public Power and Irrigation District, spoke on "irrigation and Public Power" late Thursday.

Also Thursday, State Water Resources Director Dan Jones Jr. told the joint convention that prospects for adequate water supplies next summer are better now than they have been at this time for many years.

Total storage in the North Platte project reservoirs is 493,000 acre feet, 240% of the average for the past 10 years, Jones said.

"The carryover of Glendo irrigation storage is 112,000 acre-feet, enough to supply the demand on this storage for more than two years. Kingsley storage is the best in years. The carry-over in the Republican Basin reservoirs is such that they are sure to fill next year," Jones said.

Jones called the 1962 irrigation season "one of those rare seasons that water administrators dream about but seldom experience."

'Climate Rules'

Eugene C. Reed, director of the University of Nebraska's conservation and survey division, told the meeting that in general climate rather than groundwater withdrawals "is still the dominant factor on our groundwater levels."

Reed said observation well measurements are not complete, "the climatic record in 1962 has been generally favorable to above-normal recharge to groundwater."

Reclamation Assoc. Officers Re-Elected

North Platte (AP)—The Nebraska Reclamation Association re-elected all officers Thursday and selected 3 new directors at its annual convention.

The new directors are M. A. Larson, Central City; Charles Manke, Omaha, and Hjalmer Quist, Blair.

Officers are Cyril P. Shaughnessey, St. Paul; president; Roger Cunningham, Lincoln, vice president; C. Petrus Peterson, Lincoln, executive director, and Willa Inghram, Lincoln, secretary-treasurer.

GUGAS WILL CONTINUE IN OMAHA POST

Omaha (UPI) — Omaha Public Safety Director Chris Gugas said Thursday night he was withdrawing his resignation. He said this was in response to popular support which he didn't know he had.

Gugas mailed his resignation to Mayor James Dworak after City Council criticism. He expressed doubt that he could remain useful in light of the criticism.

However, Gugas said he received numerous telephone calls urging him to stay on. "I didn't know I had so much popular support," he said.

Dworak refused to accept the resignation and said, as far as he was concerned, Gugas continued as public safety director. He called the resignation hasty and said Gugas would have to toughen himself against political barbs.

NAKED BOY ON BIKE CAUGHT ON VALLEY RD.

A motorist reported seeing a naked boy riding a bicycle on Valley Road between 48th and 49th Thursday evening.

An investigating policeman found a 12-year-old boy clad only in a raincoat. The boy took the officer to the clothing he had taken off. He dressed and was taken to the police station.

Police said the boy gave no reason for his behavior. He was released to his father and ordered to report to the juvenile bureau Friday.

More Interstate Ready At Omaha

Interstate Highway traffic lanes into downtown Omaha will open Saturday morning, deputy State Engineer G. C. Strobel said Thursday.

He said the 3 inbound lanes of Interstate 80 from Interstate 480, going east and north from 42nd St. to Dewey Ave., will be ready for use at about 8 a.m., Saturday.

Opening of the lanes means drivers may travel from near Lincoln to downtown Omaha on the Interstate without stopping for a traffic signal or a stop sign.

Mail Truck Kills Child, 5

Omaha (AP) — The Douglas County sheriff's office reported a 5-year-old boy was fatally injured Thursday afternoon when struck by a mail truck at the west edge of Omaha.

The victim was identified as Gregory Alexander, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Alexander.

The mail truck had stopped at the home. When the truck started the driver head a thump at the rear wheels.

Ex-Mental Patient Kills 2 Policemen

Bruck An Der Mur, Austria (AP) — A former mental patient killed two policemen Thursday night, then fled to the roof of his house where he held some 50 officers at bay with potshots from several weapons.

Josef Planasch, 38, besieged by the entire police force of this city of 15,000 people, refused surrender demands. Police fired tear gas grenades but the wind carried the fumes away.

"We'll get him as soon as daylight comes," an officer said.

VAUGHN MEADER

Kennedy Mimic Hits Jackpot

. . . 1.6 Million Records

New York (AP) — America's latest Horatio Alger is a former hillbilly singer who rose to wealth and fame by deftly imitating the President.

Vaughn Meader whose former fortune was his Army pay plus an extra $50 a week for singing Western songs, today estimates he will make $3 million from a single recording.

The record is "The First Family," a takeoff on President Kennedy and his family. One hundred copies were bought by a high-ranking Kennedy administration source within a week of its issue.

More than 1.6 million copies of the recording have been sold in its first two weeks — a top sale.

In the record, Meader imitates President Kennedy holding a news conference, presiding over an after-dinner family conversation in the manner of holding a news conference, a summit meeting with a number of heads of state and a formal reception.

Little to Explain

Meader, 26, will be the first to tell you that there's very little in his background to explain what's happening.

Not so many years ago he was just a piano player and singer of hillbilly and Western songs, performing on the side while going to Brookline Mass., high school and later while in the armed forces.

Since the President has not said publicly what he thinks of Meader's imitation, Meader says he wouldn't like to say what he's heard privately on the subject. But he can gather that the reaction was "quite favorable."

No Changes In Plan For Guard Shift

Washington (AP)—The Defense Department said Thursday "no major changes are being made" in the Army's plan to reorganize its National Guard and Reserve.

This plan involves breaking up 8 Infantry divisions and reconstituting them into a streamlined brigade organization, and eliminating about 730 company-size units which are considered obsolete.

A department spokesman said announcement of the final form of the controversial plan probably will be made next week.

Meanwhile, he said, the Army is consulting with representatives of governors of the states and with congressmen.

These consultations, it was understood, are to iron out details of the plan, which has aroused strong opposition for many governors and some key members of congress.

By all indications, the basis elements of the plan will remain close to what the Army announced last spring and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has supported ever since.

"Contrary to a published report," the Pentagon spokesman said, "no major changes are being made in the plan as submitted by the Department of the Army with approval of the Department of Defense.

"This plan was based on military needs which remain the proper basis for any military program."

It's a monster!

5030 Oakcrest Drive
Oxon Hill, Hargland

Gentlemen,

I agree with your ads. Most wives look at the Volkswagen Station Wagon and say, "Absolutely not — it's too silly looking."

But I agreed to go to the local VW showroom and take a spin. "It's a monster," was my first reaction. "I'll never be able to drive it," was my second. But I did drive it - all 105 pounds of me — with no trouble at all! I can see out in all directions and I don't have a right fender to worry about.

We bought it and I must confess it's even less trouble than our dear, reliable VW Sedan.

Sincerely,
Mrs Allen L. Boyd

Intriguing Issue On 52nd

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

The intrigue of city government is probably nowhere more apparent than it is in the proposed opening of 52nd Street from O to R. The City-County Planning Commission has voted 4 to 3, no majority, in favor of the opening. In so doing it has gone against the recommendation of its planning engineer, Douglas Brogden, and the city's traffic engineer, Robert Holsinger, whose job it is to determine street patterns and layouts.

Actually, one might well wonder what all the hassle is about since a piece of paving from O to R would not seem to be of much importance. Too, the proposed street is through a low area of the city which makes it of further insignificance. Yet, there are many important considerations in the issue. For one thing, the area involved, at least in terms of subdividing, is composed of about 60 acres of unoccupied land. It was divided some 40 years ago into five-acre lots as part of the entire area from 48th to 56th, O to Vine. Thus, it is not a modern subdivision and would normally be developed through regular subdivision channels.

Subdivision Problems

It appears now, however, as though the land will be subdivided only by private sale and the city, thereby, loses a lot of its control over development of the land. One's first reaction might be that the city should have no control over private land but this is not quite right. The city is interested in many things in an effort to protect the general public and to guard against problems in the future.

Neither Brogden nor Holsinger is against the street opening itself but they do object to a straight alignment for the street. For one thing, this could turn the street, even though it is a short one, into a substantial carrier of traffic because it lies between two major arterials. And once opened to R, the next push would be an opening all the way to Vine.

Again, you might say that it is unfair to get into speculation on what might happen. But, unless the city does attempt to provide for the future in its development, it ends up with a great many problems on its hands. For instance, a straight through street would be more in harmony with business development than residential. The land involved, however, is now zoned residential. To comply better with the zoning, the street should have residential characteristics rather than arterial. This would cover both the design of the street and its width. If the street is laid out as advocated by interests in the area, it will have arterial characteristics.

Then, there is the matter of the drainage. The street could be opened along a path conforming to the natural drainage which would provide for a better sewer system. As it is, the street is proposed to be opened with no particular thought at all given to drainage. This, perhaps, is one of the most important problems of all. Considering what is proposed and the use of surrounding land, it is a good bet that the planned usage is business, not residential. This would likely be the next step before the City Council following installation of the street. The argument for it can be seen with ease — the area has been developed to date along business use lines and it is worthless as residential property. If not developed as business, a drainage system would be essential and with the street running in a straight line, the drainage system would run in easements crossing in a haphazard line over the lots involved.

Thus, with the street in a straight line as proposed, we tie ourselves in knots on the drainage and further limit the use of the land to business. This is a mistake unless the land is determined in advance to be of a business character. But this is a decision that should be made in advance, not one that is forced upon the city as a result of thoughtless actions in the past.

Assuming, however, that the land is eventually developed as business, then there is still the drainage problem. In normal subdivision of land, the subdivider is required to take care of all drainage and utility problems in advance. When this is not done, the city invariably ends up with somone's demanding that it solve the drainage problem.

The city has faced this problem so many times in the past that it should be cured of making such a mistake at this time. Beyond all of this is the matter of further encroaching with traffic and business upon the environs of Charles Culler Junior High School. With 52nd opened in a straight line, Culler would be surrounded by Vine, R, 56th and 52nd. This is something that the Lincoln School Board has probably not given sufficient thought to in the past. Its placement of schools in congested areas is not a wise development.

Congestion By School

The 52nd Street question actually is not in itself of the magnitude with which it is being treated. What is important is that the city not surrender principles of planning, zoning and traffic movement which will give it headaches in the future. You can't apply the rules of the game in one case and not in another, regardless of the relative signficance of any two projects. Fifty-second Street should be opened as best suits the total well-being of the city, not as suits the interests of a few property owners. This is why the city has its jurisdiction in such matters.

Education's New Man

President Kennedy has finally found a new man to assume the duties of United States Commissioner of Education. He is Francis Keppel, dean of Harvard University's graduate school of education.

There is no doubt about Mr. Keppel's capacity. Of course, there was no doubt about the capacity of his predecessor, Sterling M. McMurrin, who quit the job after 16 frustrating months. What is wrong here is the ambivalent attitude of the country toward the federal part in education, and the lack of adequate powers in the office of commissioner of education.

Dr. Keppel will be in charge of the distribution of approximately $600 million in federal grants, and will also have the duty of seeing to it that a mountain of statistical records are kept. But neither of these functions offer to him any real opportunity for formulating policy or of healing what may be sick in our educational institution. Dr. Keppel will be an unusual man if he does not experience frustration as did his predecessor.

Yet Dr. Keppel will have at least two avenues down which he may accomplish something. He can take his case to the public. He can also be persuasive with organized education and with Congress. We hope he does this, for he is a knowledgeable person whose judgments merit respectful consideration. From such efforts may come some badly needed reforms in educational policy, enough it is hoped, to result in the highest public educational office in the land becoming something better than a place of confinement for that talent which ought to be abroad. The encouraging thing in this appointment is that Dr. Keppel knows what he is getting into and is not dispirited by it.

Phony Reform

The arrest of the entire Guatemalan air force and the flight of three of its colonels seems to have deprived the revolt there of its spearhead. But it is not to be concluded from that that the action solved the problem of general unrest.

It was just eight years ago that the United States moved swiftly and successfully to prevent a Soviet take-over of the Guatemalan government. A communist beachhead there, as later established in Cuba, was averted. It was at that time that the U.S. set forth to make of Guatemala a showcase of democracy. There were recommendations for land reform, improved democratic institutions and general economic progress.

Now this recent rebellion is being attributed to machinations of Castroites. No doubt such a factor was active. But the explanation is obscuring a deeper fact, namely that little if anything in the way of reform was achieved after the blow up eight years ago. This is not to say that the U.S. reneged on its promises. But in Guatemala there was no disposition on the part of the land owners to permit land distribution. The ultra conservative army element continued to see no point in relaxing discipline over the citizenry nor diminishing its influence in government.

In so much of Latin America it is the same way. The established leadership welcomes the intercession of the United States, but as a matter of its own defense rather than in acquiescence to this nation's urging for basic reform. It is no wonder that progress and tranquility does not come to that part of the world and that the threat of communism remains formidable.

Where Lies The Fault?

A very good distinction between the misinformed and uninformed was drawn by Dr. Jim Nunnally at a meeting at the Nebraska Center for Continuing Education of the Midwest Dynamic Mental Health Program. A Vanderbilt University psychologist, Dr. Nunnally said that tests show people will "gobble up" that which appears or sounds to be authoritative to them.

"Teaching new concepts is not difficult," he said. "The real problem is changing attitudes and making certain people understand that there are causes for mental illness just as there are causes for physical disorders."

What Dr. Nunnually was talking about and applying specifically to the field of mental illness was the art of communication. It is an art with greater delicacy than most people tend to give it. His analysis shows the two parts of the art that are vital — those who seek to inform and those who are to be informed.

For an idea or a thought to be communicated, it requires skill on the part of the parties of both the first and second part. If the one making the explanation does a poor job of things, then the person to be informed gains no information. If, on the other hand, the person for whom the information is intended is not receptive, then he will still gain no information, regardless of the skill or ability of his informant.

To bring about a greater understanding and appreciation of the causes of and cures for mental illness, the public needs to be conditioned as well as informed. People must first be convinced that the times have changed the professional concept and treatment of mental illness and in this way be prepared to accept the new and factual fundamentals of such illness. In other words, old convictions must be destroyed before new ones can take their place.

Mikoyan Had To Appease Castro

WASHINGTON — Through the eyes of foreign diplomats in Havana and the cameras of vigilant reconnaissance planes, the Central Intelligence Agency is piecing together what has been going on inside Cuba.

CIA agents also have been interviewing Cuban refugees and underground contacts at the rate of 250 per day. Unfortunately, however, the Cubans' reports are often colored by a desire to see the United States invade Cuba.

It has been the Cuban informants, for instance, who have been most persistent in claiming that Russia has hidden offensive missiles in some of Cuba's 350 caves.

One of the most reliable informants, underground leader Luis Fernandez Rocha, recently listed seven Soviet-built "subterranean installations" in which missiles supposedly have been concealed.

However, the CIA discovered the report was founded upon two vague, mysterious telephone calls from Havana. This is hardly enough evidence upon which to base U.S. policy.

The CIA has verified that Dictator Castro has been remodeling caves and digging underground installations for over a year. The evidence indicates they are being used for storing weapons and ammunition, including perhaps 25-mile rockets. But the CIA is convinced that Russia has cleared out all her long-range missiles.

☆ ☆ ☆

The word from Havana diplomats is that Anastas Mikoyan, the Kremlin trouble-shooter, had to bribe Castro with a three-year economic aid treaty to get him to agree to the removal of Soviet bombers from Cuba.

The aid offer was coupled with threats to cut off all communist aid upon which Cuba now depends for 80 per cent of its needs.

During the negotiations, Castro also tried some threats of his own. He threatened to side with Red China in the ideological struggle between the Russian bear and the Chinese dragon.

But Mikoyan softly reminded Castro that China, beset with mass hunger at home, could hardly keep Cuba in rice.

After several rounds with the ranting Castro, Mikoyan wearily described him to Iron Curtain diplomats as a "neurotic."

At one point, Mikoyan sweetly suggested to Castro that he needed a vacation.

"Only a bullet in the head will remove me!" screamed the bearded one.

Of all the congressmen who scattered to the four corners of the earth after the election, probably the gayest junket was arranged by the House Banking and Currency Committee.

Nearly a dozen members and their wives set out after elections to fly completely around the world at the taxpayers' expense. They even wangled ex-President Eisenhower's luxurious plane, the Columbine, from the Air Force and headed for the glamor capitals of the world, ranging from Honlulu to Hamilton, Bermuda.

See No Change In GOP Posture

WASHINGTON — Prospects for a real shift of direction by Republicans in the next Congress are remote for the simplest possible reason: the moderates do not have the votes.

They can and do contend that the election returns said it was time for a change. They point to the huge pluralities of moderate Sen. Jacob K. Javits of New York and Thomas H. Kuchel of California. They point to the statistic that since 1954, when Republicans controlled Congress, they have lost 25 Senate seats to Democrats of which 17 were held by the dominant conservative faction.

Other pressures within the party for a new look are responsible and command an audience. Some of these are particularly frank and courageous in pointing to the dangers of building a southern Republican organizaton on white segregationists. They have already been rebuffed by National Chairman William Miller.

But not all the electoral carnage has sufficed to wipe out the conservative-liberal ratio of the Senate and House minorities. By their own count, Senate Republican moderates believe they can muster only 11 firm votes against at least 16 simon-pure conservatives. The remaining six of their total of 33 they would expect to be neutral, usually against them, in a party struggle.

☆ ☆ ☆

The figures on seniority are even more revealing. Though the two senior Senate Republicans—Alexander Wiley and Homer Capehart—lost to liberal Democrats, the 15 who will be senior in service in January include nine conservatives and only three liberals. The other three are among the so-called neutrals.

The House ratios are more difficult to assess at this point. An informed judgment is that the dominant Republican conservative faction there has, if anything, been enlarged.

☆ ☆ ☆

Pondering these hard facts, Sen. Clifford Case of New Jersey is proposing that moderate Republicans should move their fight for the party's identity to a larger forum which would include Republican governors. Case believes that Gov. Nelson Rockefeller and Govs.-elect George Romney and William Scranton, among others, would be helped by regular seminars dealing principally with urban issues vital to their states.

This may be so. But the rather checkered history of Rockefeller's dealing with such conservatives as Sen. Barry Goldwater and Ezra Taft Benson suggests that he, at least, is wary of offending their reaction.

Sweet News For Beet Growers

By MONA B. PARKER

When a chill autumn rain began to fall, the farming folks around Pawnee City counted their blessings in many ways. The moisture wasn't the big thing with them, Mrs. Lester Eastwood noted in the Republican. Most of the corn is in the crib, milo went into the bin some time ago, much of the fall plowing and other seasonal chores are out of the way, combines and pickers are stored away for another year—and the winter-long battle with the elements of last year as they struggled through "the longest harvest season on record" for that community is only a bad memory now.

Editor Alton Wilhelms of the Stromsburg Headlight enjoys a football banquet quite as much as the next man. The fun begins, he says, with the fried chicken and all the trimmings and carries right on through to that wonderful pleased look on the face of a boy being awarded his first varsity letter, while his proud dad looks on.

"When you see a senior boy step up to get his first letter after battling his way on the squad for four years, you can sense a spirit of tremendous satisfaction."

In his "Briefly Speaking" column in the Oxford Standard, B. E. Wimmer had a fairly apt definition of a legislator after election. This is the same man, he reminds, "who, when a little boy, went to the grocery and forgot what his mother sent him there for."

Call it progress, if you will, but Cary Reynolds of Moorefield isn't quite so sure. The Curtis Enterprise columnist has a new dial telephone and it is efficient enough, but somehow she misses the voice of "central" over the wire, with the cheerful greeting and any little odd bits of information needed, such as snowfall amount or the like.

And besides that, the price of a stamp is going to a nickel.

"Gosh!" she ejaculates. "No central office, no box on wall phone and a hike in postage. Progress? Ha!"

Sugar beet growers around Ainsworth have received some good tidings in the mail —checks totaling $1,417,000. And this is only the initial payment for the 1962 crop. A compliance payment will be made soon, and a subsequent payment in April, 1963, based on the sugar "nets" and the sugar content. The final payment for the 1962 crop will be made in October of 1963.

A crop of 150,000 tons was processed at the Belle Fourche factory there this year.

When one West Point woman has a snack now, she lets the chips fall where they may but takes careful note of anything in between. Especially if it is potato chips she is eating. Mrs. Louis Jahnke recently found a diamond ring in a bag of the crunchy goodies. She reported her find to the grocer, who wrote in to the company who had produced the product. Soon came a letter from a woman in Topeka, Kansas, who had lost the sparkler when she was pouring chips onto a conveyor belt. She had had slim hopes of ever having it returned to her.

Art Henrickson of the Western Nebraska Observer at Kimball doesn't object too much to a state income tax. He doesn't seem to have enough to make much difference, he says.

However, he is financially finished if they ever get around to something they speak of now and then. And that is an outgo tax. There is a tremendous amount of that around his house and a tax on that would be more of a burden than he could stand up to, he feels.

Spiraling costs, it seems, truly reach into the most minute areas of our everyday lives—even into a little girl's mouth. Or at least to the extent of being involved with what comes out of a little girl's mouth, besides words, words and more words. A seven-year-old Howells youngster bore up nobly while her father gave the last necessary tweak to a loose tooth, and then declared merrily: "Goody, now the good fairy will give me a dollar." Her 12-year-old brother, who well remembered back to the days when the selfsame fairy, looking surprisingly like good ol' dad, shelled out nickels and dimes in exchange for the fallen bits of ivory, expressed his disgust in no uncertain terms: "Oh, brother, if this isn't the age of inflation!"

MARQUIS CHILDS

GOP Busy Taking Political Inventory

WASHINGTON—If any serious soul-searching is going on within the Republican party over the indifferent outcome of the November 6 election and the prospect for 1964, it is taking place behind a carefully plastered facade of statements and news releases proclaiming that all is well. Or, well, as well as could be expected under the circumstances.

In closing ranks, the Republicans are setting the signal successes in the governorships in Pennsylvania, Michigan, New York and Ohio over against the loss in the Senate and the failure to gain more than two seats in the House. But this does not obscure a threatened split in the facade. On one side are the newly elected Republican governors who know that national elections must be won in the big-city states. On the other is the congressional leadership that tends to squander its resources on marginal operations in the South and in wooing the extreme right where the big money is.

Ignoring the conspiracy of silence, some outspoken critics have rushed into this breach. The Young Republicans who as seniors at Harvard started the magazine "Advance" have now moved it to Washington where they continue to express the viewpoint of moderate and progressive Republicans. Besides the quarterly magazine, the editors put out a newsletter, the current one taking the form of an open letter to the Republican National Committee. The point of the letter insists that by running segregationist Republicans in the South, the party is damaging if not destroying its chances of winning elections in the North.

The letter points out that the Democrats in the South are putting together a steadily growing coalition of liberal and Negro voters. They are aiding the efforts of several large foundations spending $750,000 to help the Negro get the vote. This coalition may ultimately prove unbeatable, the "Advance" editors warn, "if the Republicans cooperate by taking the racists off Kennedy's hands and abandoning the Negroes to him."

They add that the Republican candidate in South Carolina "showed how it is done." He "managed to alienate the whole Negro vote to militant segregationist Senator Olin Johnston." Running for a fourth term, Johnston was considered to be in a close race with W. D. Workman. He won by 44,782 votes out of 312,000 cast.

In contrast, the newsletter points out, George Romney exceeded Richard Nixon's percentages in Detroit's Negro wards by between seven and 10 percent. Scathing attacks on the Kennedy administration's record on civil rights helped William Scranton get almost double the 1960 totals in Philadelphia's Negro districts and make an 11.2 per cent improvement in the city as a whole. In New York City Governor Nelson Rockefeller and Senator Jacob Javits got over 40 percent of the vote in Harlem which was twice the score of two years ago.

The Republican state chairman in Mississippi, Wirt Yerger, an all-out segregationist, is also regional chairman for the South. He had called a meeting of his fellow southerners, with the other chairmen as invited guests, for December 14 in Dallas. Word reached Republicans here that it was to be a celebration for the Republican victories in the South and a demand that the committee's "Operation Dixie" be enlarged.

The meeting has been called off. Agreement has been reached with National Chairman William E. Miller on four workshop conferences with state chairmen in four different sections of the country. The first conference will be held here in the new year with Ray Bliss, Ohio state chairman and head of the Midwest region, in charge.

That is a significant choice. Bliss was the instigator of the lengthy report presented to a national committee meeting in Oklahoma last January, setting out what Republicans would have to do to win the big-city vote and therefore the states with large electoral totals. This was a cogent document, putting the facts of political life in the second half of the 20th Century squarely on the line.

☆ ☆ ☆

As many Republicans are aware, Negro leaders and perhaps also the rank and file are deeply dissatisfied with the record of the Kennedy administration on civil rights. In Albany, Georgia, and other important testing grounds, the feeling is that the approach has been too timid, lacking the determination and the follow-through implied in the campaign promises of 1960.

Far more than merely politics, it scarcely need be added, is involved. The problem of the two races living side by side with the promise of equal opportunity held out has become acute in recent years.

Grand Champion Steer Sells For Low Of $5.75 Per Pound

Chicago (UPI) — Top of Iowa, the grand champion steer of the International Live Stock Exposition, was auctioned Thursday for $5.75 a pound — the lowest price paid for an exposition grand champion since 1952.

The total price for the Aberdeen Angus steer owned by farmer Lyle Miller of Osceola, Ia., came to $6,296. The buyer, the Your Pleasure Chest of Steaks mail order firm, padded the price by weighing Miller's two children along with Top of Iowa.

The weight of the steer plus the children came to 1,095 pounds.

Miller, 32, asked whether he was disappointed by the low price, said "I guess a little."

It was the lowest price paid for an exposition champion since a steer shown by Ohio State University brought $4.55 a pound in 1952. And it was the lowest price paid for a champion steer owned by an individual since Ben A. Grieve of Bryant, Ohio, got $4.50 for his prize winner in 1944.

There were only two bidders for this year's grand champion.

The low price paid for Top of Iowa was in sharp contrast to barnyard bonanza recorded at earlier expositions. Last year's winner, an Angus owned by Iowa State University, brought $14 a pound and the record is $30 a pound paid in 1957 for a steer named "Honeymoon," owned by Mrs. Sue Secondino of Terre Haute, Ind.

'Portly Predicament' Stars Roof Hanger With Firemen As Keystone Cops

. . . BROOKLYN CHURCH PRODUCTION BRINGS HERO CHEERS FROM CROWD OF SPECTATORS

By FRANCIS STILLEY

New York (AP) — A roofer with a rather large . . . er . . . middle proportion . . . got into quite a predicament atop a Brooklyn church Thursday because of it.

His — well, let's come right out and say that his tummy for a time resisted all efforts toward his rescue and eventually caused the fire department a bit of embarrassment.

The roofer, Gustav E. Nilsson, 65, a veteran of 30 years in the business, was working on the roof of the Baptist Temple at 360 Schermerhorn St. He is a deacon of the church and was doing the job free.

Hoist Broke

His son, Charles, 35, was loading shingles onto a hoist from the ground 40 feet below and Nilsson was hauling them up by pulling on a rope. Suddenly the hoist mechanism broke loose and fell.

Nilsson, still holding the rope, was pulled over the edge of the rather flat roof. But he managed to grab hold of the rain gutter and there he dangled.

Nilsson's son raced into the church and scrambled up stairs to the organ loft. He was followed by the pastor, the Rev. Waldon Horbett, 37. The two clambered up a ladder to the roof and each grabbed one of Nilsson's arms. They tugged and they tugged, but to no avail.

Handicap

It seemed that the protruding stomach of the 5 foot 7, 200-pound Nilsson was just too much of a handicap to overcome — or, rather, to get over the rain gutter. It kept snagging him.

Gathering spectators summoned Patrolman Michael Sena, on traffic duty a block away. He sped to the church top and lent his muscles to the tugging task. There was still too much tummy.

The church pastor said that "we held him I guess for about 15 minutes but it seemed like a year. I prayed to God that help would come."

To Rescue

Help did, in the person of sexton Thomas Thompson. Thompson found a ladder belonging to the roofers and propped it up against the wall under Nilsson. Nilsson managed to get his feet on the upper rungs.

But he didn't dare turn loose his handhold on the rain gutter because he was afraid of losing balance. Thus, he couldn't go up and he couldn't go down.

Finally the fire department raced to the rescue with a ladder truck. But because Nilsson's perch was in a narrow alleyway, the ladder had to be run up from an awkward angle from an adjoining street.

However, two firemen mounted the ladder and edged Nilsson onto it. Then Nilsson's weight and movement caused the ladder to swing. It crashed through a stained glass window of the church, carrying Nilsson and the two firemen inside on its tip.

Other firemen scampered inside the church and upstairs to find a shaken but unhurt roofer and pair of firemen.

Nilsson returned to the street and a big crowd of spectators cheered him.

Occupational

"This is only an occupational hazard," said the roofer. "I don't know what the fuss is all about." However, he added with a grin: "but I did pray while I was up there."

His son urged him to take the day off but Nilsson waved him aside, and started back up his ladder against the side of the building. After about 10 feet he slowed, paused and descended. "Maybe we'll try it tomorrow," he said.

The only damage — aside from that to the window and the firemen's pride — was to Nilsson's pants.

They split.

POSTCARD by Stan Delaplane

When Prince Philip came down to Montevideo from England, the Uruguayans offered him asado con cuero.

The Prince took a look. "Eat a steak with the hide and hair still on it? No blooming fear," he said — or words to that effect.

It will be long time before Uruguay forgives England.

☆ ☆ ☆

Uruguay is a cattle country. Uruguayans eat, on a national average, a pound and a half of beef per person per day. (This includes the moppets with no teeth yet. So some people must be tucking away three pounds, no?).

They eat meat three times a day. Cut into porterhouse and sirloin. Filet, rump New York and by the chunk.

The most respected and dearly loved is asado con cuero. Described to me as follows:

Take a thick slice of freshly killed beef with the hide still on it.

"Broil this over coals. Preferably, eat it cold."

The Uruguyans say there is a layer of fat under the skin. This drips down through the meat while it is broiling and gives it an excellent flavor.

They take great care not to singe the hide. And when it is served, you can almost recognize the steer.

☆ ☆ ☆

The other day I was invited to a home in Montevideo. The Senora, who spent much of her life up on the ranch—or estancia, they say here—gave me a recipe.

Ostriches run wild in the back country. The gauchos get the eggs out of the nest.

However, you never know when you may have guests and have to run down to the supermarket for an ostrich egg. So I took the recipe:

"Take the top off the egg. Put a beater through the hole and beat up the yolk. Add a hot mixture of milk, mustard and salt."

She said it tasted a little like scrambled eggs—the hot mixture cooks it in the shell.

She showed me an egg, too. Serves about a dozen people, I'd say.

On this excellent diet, Uruguay's 2,000,000 people have produced a stable government. (The elections are on right now. From the noise you'd think they were all cutting each other's throats. But it seems the custom here to win with loudspeaker trucks.)

They hold the peso at an exchange rate that rivals the Swiss franc. (Uruguay, like Switzerland, is a country of escape capital and hidden bank accounts.)

I saw no Army on the street and few police. (Across the Rio Plata in Buenos Aires, the Army is walking the city with grease guns.)

☆ ☆ ☆

It is a pretty town. Now in the Spring in South merica. Buenos Aires is a half hour flight away. (The Rio de la Plata is 60 miles wide at this point.)

In the summer, the Argentinians come to the beaches to swim and have a fling at the tables in the Casino.

The Brazilians hustle their falling cruzeiros into the security of Uruguayan pesos.

The Americans come down and buy the alligator bags and the nutria fur coats.

If anybody asks you to have a steak with the hide on it, close your eyes and eat. We don't want any more international incidents. Prince Philip now and that English roly-poly pudding!

Experts Give All But Alcholism Answer

By NANCY RAY
Star Staff Writer

Scientific students of alcoholism and alcoholics gave Lincolnites everything but the answers Thursday at a research symposium aimed at formulating an alcohol program for Lincoln.

Instead of answers, the experts offered a series of problems which must be reckoned with before any community program can get off the ground.

The 3-day workshop is being sponsored by the Lincoln Community Council and University of Nebraska in cooperation with the Lincoln Foundation.

Alcohol On Campus

In a lighter vein, the importance of "primers," "beer blasts" and other alcoholic entertainment on a college campus was discussed at a convocation by a panel of students, medical men and psychologists.

A "good guy" on campus is one who gets "bombed" regularly because that is one prime factor in social acceptance, NU student panelist Roger Meyers told the university audience.

Dr. Marvin Block, professor of medicine at the University of Buffalo, labeled alcohol a "socially acceptable, readily available drug."

Dr. Nevitt Sanford of Stanford University said the student is influenced in his drinking behavior by both the tradition of Puritanism and the "he-man" image. He suggested alternatives must be found to the drinking party and called the American culture "singularly unresourceful" in finding forms of enjoyment.

Dr. Rol Holly, NU vice chancellor, said the campus drinking problem is not a "flagrant one", but added no university officials are naive enough to believe a problem does not exist.

At workshop sessions, Dr. David Pittman, Washington University (St. Louis) sociologist, declared disagreements within groups trying to aid alcoholics "have tended to hamper efforts to establish a common cooperative approach to alcoholism."

He noted "vested interest groups" including the alcohol industry have prevented creation of effective programs to deal with alcoholism.

Dr. Julius A. Humann, chairman of the Lincoln Community Council on alcoholism, challenged the group to reach the goal of a program for prevention and rehabilitation of the alcoholic. He estimated Lincoln has about 5,000 alcoholics.

Dr. Jack Mendelson, psychiatrist, of Harvard University, agreed that Lincoln has a unique opportunity to benefit sick individuals and provide much-needed research on alcoholism, but warned:

"Many of our concepts of alcoholics and alcoholism are based on 'folklore' and much of the study of alcoholic behavior is based upon reactions of college sophomores" and not reactions of chronic alcoholics.

He reviewed a recent research project in which chronic alcoholics were given regular amounts of whiskey in increasing amounts over a 20-day period until they were receiving more than a fifth of whiskey daily.

The study, although not conclusive, gives evidence that directly contradicts many prevailing medical opinions on effects of alcohol on the body and behavior, and suggests there is a metabolic difference between a chronic alcoholic and a normal individual.

Speaking Thursday night, Dr. Block said, "Alcohol is no more the cause of alcoholism than gasoline is the cause of automobile accident."

"The problem is people," he said.

"If there's one thing that stands in the way of a solution to the problem of alcoholism, it's the stigma that attaches to the disease."

He suggested a public education program to change the environment and attitudes that cause alcoholism.

JORGENSEN ADDRESSES SEWARD COUNTY BREEDERS

Seward—More than 300 persons attending the Seward County Livestock Breeders and Feeders Association banquet were told Thursday evening that as livestock goes, so goes the nation.

Hart Jorgensen, executive director of the Livestock Foundation of Omaha, said, "The farmer and livestockman is more important today than ever before, because more than 90% of the population depend on so few for their food."

Jorgensen that the price of fat cattle has exceeded the expectations of practically everyone in the business, remaining $3 per cwt. above a year ago.

He said marketing of cattle at lighter weights as a factor in keeping consumption in line with production.

Officers of the Breeders and Feeders Association elected for 1963 are Otto Weimer of Utica, president; Raphael Dobesh of Seward, vice-president, and Ray Gard of Beaver Crossing, secretary-treasurer.

Agnew Woman Hurt Getting Out Of Car

Mrs. Anna G. Kubik, 51, of Agnew, was treated by her private physician for injuries suffered in a two-car accident Thursday morning, police reported.

Officers said the accident happened as Mrs. Kubik was getting out of the car driven by her husband, Emil, 56.

Kubik stopped on the west side of 9th between P and O to let her out. A car driven by Obed A. Cramer, 19, of 2741 R, swerving to go around the Kubik car, struck it in the rear, police reported.

RURALS READY TO SETTLE POWER LITIGATION

claimed rate increases which involved approximately $630,000 claimed to be owing from the rurals, and $720,000 from Consumers.

The other phase of the litigation involved a suit filed in 1959 by 25 rural districts, contending that various contracts entered into between Loup and Platte districts with Consumers violated certain provisions of contracts that the rurals had previously entered into with Loup and Platte in 1947.

The action of the rural representatives taken at Thursday's meeting would settle this litigation subject to the condition that such settlement is also accepted by Consumers, Loup and Platte.

Under the proposed settlement, Loup and Platte would dismiss their lawsuits against the rurals and dismiss their action filed against Consumers.

The settlement will provide for a dismissal of litigation by the 25 rurals in their lawsuit. As a part of the settlement, the rurals, Loup and Platte agree to amend the requirement power contracts entered into in 1957.

Foreman Happy

Ralph Foreman of Columbus, manager of the Nebraska Electric Generation and Transmission Cooperative, Inc., and member of the Nebraska Public Power Committee, said he was "real happy with the action."

Rurals, he said, have taken this position "feeling real confident that the Legislature will follow through with the recommendations in the Legislative Council committee report."

The people of Nebraska, Foreman said, "will learn soon just how good public power can be."

All rural boards have been requested to act on the resolution by Dec. 15.

Foreman noted that the settlement was a compromise of the claims of all parties involved and that the rurals were reluctantly conceding to changes in certain parts of their power contract in order to secure a settlement that appeared to be in the best interest of public power in Nebraska.

Engagement Of Interest

Of much more than casual interest to Lincoln, and also to campus circles this morning is the engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Leah Jo Smith to James Stuart, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. James Stuart, which is announced this morning by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Smith of Mitchell, S.D.

The wedding is planned for 4 o'clock on Saturday afternoon, Dec. 29, at St. Mary's Church, Episcopal, in Mitchell.

Miss Smith is a senior at the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Pi Beta Phi sorority, and where she also is a member of the Varsity Cheerleaders squad.

Mr. Stuart is a junior at the University of Nebraska, and is a member of Phi Delta Theta fraternity.

The News Around The Town

Of course the piece de resistance in the news this morning is the announcement of the engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Leah Jo Smith and James Stuart, Jr. — but there also is other news which is of considerable interest—guests, for instance. There also are homecomers to mention, plus some party guests lists — and this and that.

* * *

On the guest list recently — and briefly — were Dr. and Mrs. Frank J. Steele of Boston, Mass., who were in town for an overnight stay as the guests of Mrs. Steele's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Williams.

* * *

Then we learned that Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kazmarek and their sons, Bob and Jim, left on Thursday morning for their home in Janesville, Wis.

Mr. and Mrs. Kazmarek and their family arrived the Tuesday before Thanksgiving to spend the holiday with Mrs. Kazmarek's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Coble. For Mr. Kazmarek the trip to Nebraska was a bit of killing two birds with one shot — if you'll excuse a poor pun—. Anyway, Mr. Kazmarek went a-hunting while he was here, and we understand that he was lucky. We also learned that he took proof of his prowess back to Janesville.

* * *

There were other guests who came for dinner (Thanksgiving) and remained some extra days. They were Mr. and Mrs. Fred R. Easterday, Jr., of Cincinnati, Ohio, who were the guests of Mr. Easterday's mother, Mrs. Fred R. Easterday, and his aunt, Miss Bess Bowen.

Expected home from Wilmington, Del., yesterday was Mrs. Edwin Foot who went east to spend Thanksgiving with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Joyce.

Also back in town is Mrs. E. B. Drake who, with her son, Charles Drake, went to Detroit, Mich., for a long Thanksgiving holiday with Mrs. Drake's son and daughter-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Ellet B. Drake and their daughters, Halle and Patte. On Thanksgiving day the Drake sixsome went to Birmingham, Mich., where they were the dinner guests of Mrs. Drake's sister.

* * *

Yesterday we mentioned the Revelers Club dinner dance which is to be held on Saturday evening at Hotel Cornhusker — This morning we have party guest couples to name — They are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Popp, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth McCaw, Mr. and Mrs. Myron Weil, Dr. and Mrs. E. S. Maness and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Lee.

* * *

One good dancing club leads to another — and this time it is the Faculty Dancing Club. The members have planned a party for Saturday evening at the Nebraska Center. Dinner will be served at 7:30 o'clock — and dancing will start at 9 o'clock.

The committee, which has chosen a "Winter Wonderland" theme, is composed of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Sahs, chairmen; Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Bish, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Hayes, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Paulson, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Shively, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Vincett, Mr. and Mrs. Jason Webster and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Woods.

On the guest list for the dinner dance will be Mr. and Mrs. William Compton, Mr. and Mrs. William True, Mr. and Mrs. James Nutter, Mr. and Mrs. Barnett McClendon, Mr. and Mrs. Roberto Esquenazi, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Erickson and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Buterbaugh.

* * *

There is a Christmas tea on the calendar for Saturday afternoon. The affair will be held at the Delta Delta Delta chapter house, and the guest list will include members of the Tri-Delta Mothers Club, the alumnae of the sorority, and the members of the collegiate chapter.

During the afternoon a program will be presented by Mrs. Don Erway and Miss Lynn Williams.

To Be December Bride

Miss Linda Yost, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merlen W. Yost of Sutton and a former coed at Nebraska Wesleyan University, this morning is announcing that her marriage to Robert E. Whitlow of Detroit, will take place on Friday, Dec. 21, at Sutton.

A member of Delta Zeta sorority, Miss Yost is serving as a hostess with American Airlines in Detroit. Her fiance, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Whitlow of Bloomington, Ind., plays professional football with the Detroit Lions.

Following their wedding trip to the Bahamas and Florida, where Mr. Whitlow will play in one of the professional "bowl" games at Miami, early in January, the couple will reside in Tucson where the bridegroom-elect is studying for his Masters degree at the University of Arizona. Miss Yost will continue her studies at the University of Arizona.

Life Never Is Routine In Suburbia

EASTBOROUGH

It's time to tell you about the busy social circuit in Suburbia again, and where is a better place to start than in Eastborough?

We'll begin with a birthday celebrated last Sunday by Master Joseph Livingston, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Livingston. Joseph celebrated his 9th birthday with a few of his school friends at a theater party followed with the traditional birthday goodies at the Livingston home.

Also helping Joseph celebrate his birthday at a family gathering was his grandmother, Mrs. J. A. Livingston, who has been visiting her son and family for over a week now.

Mrs. Livingston, a Grand Island resident, will be returning to her home this weekend.

And another of the young men of the neighborhood celebrated birthday-party-ed last Friday morning. This was Master Richard Walsh, son of Lt. and Mrs. Robert Walsh, who celebrated his third birthday with his brothers, Robby and Randy, and 15 neighborhood friends.

There are more busy days ahead for Mrs. Walsh and her sons, for they are leaving this Saturday for a lengthy visit with Mrs. Walsh's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis White, in Memphis, Tenn. Mrs. Walsh and Robby, Richard, and Randy will be spending the Christmas holidays with Mr. and Mrs. White while Lt. Walsh is on temporary duty out of the States.

And we have a report on a Thanksgiving trip made by Mr. and Mrs. Judson N. McDougall, their children, Pamela and David, and Mrs. McDougall's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Utesch. Mr. and Mrs. Utesch arrived in Lincoln from their home in Akron, Iowa, last Tuesday, and on Wednesday the group left for Shreveport, La.

In Shreveport, the Nebraskans and Iowans were the Thanksgiving guests of former Eastborough residents, Sr. M.Sgt. and Mrs. Hank Geren and their son, Pete.

The travellers returned to Lincoln on Sunday.

Bridge is in the news again, but this time there are no cards involved. This Saturday evening, one of the neighborhood's regular bridge groups will be treating their husbands to a special "night out."

Those included in the dinner plans are Mr. and Mrs. Keith Erlewine, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Meyer, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Soukup, Mr. and Mrs. Hale Kreycik, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Brady, Mr. and Mrs. Richard O'Meara, Mr. and Mrs. James Gerhart, and Dr. and Mrs. Roy Peck.

BETHANY TERRACE

The month of November, with its five Thursdays, seems to have confused the neighborhood's bridge group. The group regularly meets the first and third Thursday of each month, and after they began counting the number of bridge days in November nobody was quite sure if this was bridge week or not. So, if you have been wondering if you should have been playing bridge last night or not, we'll set your mind at rest and tell you that you shouldn't have—it's scheduled for next week!

Yes, next Thursday evening is bridge night, and the group will be meeting at the home of Mrs. Walter Jones for its evening of cards and dessert.

In case you're even more confused, the regular members of the bridge group are Mrs. John Millet, Mrs. Ed Eschler, Mrs. Merideth Brox, Mrs. Kermit Adams, Mrs. Stanley Tony, Mrs. James Krueger, and Mrs. Jones.

SKYLINE TERRACE

Newcomers to Skyline Terrace are Mr. and Mrs. Phil Kaufman and their little ones, Kristie, 4, Mark 2½, and Kelly, 1. The Kaufman family, long-time Lincoln residents, moved to their new home at 401 Indian Rd. on November 18. They were formerly Cotner Terrace residents.

Parents of young musicians in Skyline Terrace will be headed for St. Mark's Methodist Church next Monday evening as the piano students of Mrs. Donald E. Little, also a Skyline resident, present their winter recital.

Mrs. Little's 14 piano students, ages eight through 18, are laregly from Skyline Terrace, with some from nearby areas.

A birthday to be celebrated in the neighborhood this Saturday is that of Master Mark Wilbel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wibel. Four-year-old Mark will be celebrating with his sister, Debbie, his cousins, Colleen and David Curtin, and several neighborhood friends.

Test Your Bidding Skill

B. Jay Becker

QUI Z

You have the following hand, both sides vulnerable. ♠AKQ7 ♥93 ♦Q65 ♣AJ42

1. You are the dealer. What do you bid?

2. Your partner deals and bids One Diamond, next player passes. What do you bid?

3. Your left-hand opponent bids One Diamond, your partner passes, and your right-hand opponent bids One Heart. What do you bid?

4. Your partner deals and bids One Heart and the next player doubles. What do you bid?

5. Your partner deals and bids One Heart. You respond One Spade and partner bids Three Diamonds. What do you bid?

6. Your left-hand opponent bids One Club, your partner passes, and the next player bids One Spade. What do you bid?

Here are the answers:

1. One club. Despite the 16 points and notrump distribution, which would suggest opening with a notrump, a suit bid is better with this hand. As usual, with clubs and spades of equal length, we open with the lower suit in order to save bidding space. The notrump bid is avoided because there are two unguarded suits.

2. One spade. Of course, game is sure, but that doesn't mean you have to jump the bidding to show it. A jump-shift to two spades would show a probable slam, and this hand isn't quite good enough for that. Change one of the hearts into a spade or a diamond and you would then have a proper two spade bid. The response of one spade is 100% forcing.

3. Double. This indicates values for an opening bid and support for the unmentioned suits. It would be wrong to bid a spade. That would show greater spade length and considerably less in high cards.

4. Redouble. This indicates 10 or more points. We intend to go to game eventually or else double the opponents for penalties.

5. Four clubs. A small slam is already certain, since partner's jump-shift shows at least 20 points, distributional or otherwise. The real goal is a grand slam. Four clubs is simply a waiting bid to force partner to reveal the basis for his jump-shift. Thus, partner may have: ♠J983 ♥AKQ72 ♦AK83 ♣—, or ♠5 ♥AK8762 ♦AKJ93 ♣8, or other similar holdings. We'll have to wait and see what happens over four clubs.

6. Pass. The value of a hand changes as the bidding progresses. With the opponents bidding clubs and spades, our hand has dropped in value offensively. Before the bidding started, we had some hope that partner would have length in these suits. This hope has been largely dissipated. Our best chance now is to assume a defensive posture and hope the opponents get too high.

Why Grow Old?

Brows Frame Eyes

Josephine Lowman

Many women fail to realize that the brow is actually the frame for the eye and therefore highlights the eye.

Of course, the shape and thickness of the brows vary greatly with the individual, however, so very much can be done with make-up to improve their appearance and emphasize the impact of the eyes.

In the first place stray hairs (those outside of the natural line) must be removed with the tweezers. Then use a brown eyebrow pencil with light feathery strokes. Some experts feel that the use of both a brown and a black pencil gives the most natural effect. At any rate do not use a black pencil. If you are a brunette, use a dark brown one.

After using the pencil or pencils, blend with the end of your finger, a little brush or a piece of tissue or cotton.

As a general rule the most flattering brow for you will be nature's choice. In other words follow the natural line of your brow. Sometimes it pays to improve on nature a bit. For instance, do not allow your brows to drop at the ends in a sort of semi circle. Tweeze out the straggly hairs at the ends of the brows.

Also remove any hairs over the bridge of the nose. If you feel that your brow needs a little lift remove a few hairs from the underneath line.

Some women keep very thick brows all through their lives, but many find that their brows thin as they grow older. Also some adverse physical conditions occasionally cause this. If you suddenly find that your brows are rapidly becoming noticeably thinner have a checkup by your physician.

If you would like to have my leaflet about make-up send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 50, "What's Going On?" Address Josephine Lowman in care of the Lincoln Star, Lincoln, Nebraska.

Dear Abby

Rocks In Your Head

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have been going with this man (he is 26 and I am 22) for about a year. We love each other very much and have spoken of marriage. He has a terrible temper and when he gets provoked he hits me. He has blackened my eyes and left bruises on me several times. Afterwards he begs me to forgive him and promises he'll never do it again, but he always does. The last time he hit me he cracked two ribs and loosened three teeth. I broke up with him and haven't seen him in two weeks. I now find that my love for him is even greater than before and I want to go back to him, but don't know if I should. Can you help me?

NO GREATER LOVE

DEAR NO: Any man who would repeatedly strike a woman is sick. And any woman whose love is "greater than before" after such abuse is sicker than he is. If you go back to him, you should use the rocks in your head to fill up the holes in his!

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: I once read that Russians think we worship dogs. "Lies," I cried. Then I looked into the facts. I learned that more is spent each year on dog and cat food than on baby food. That there are beauty parlors for dogs (at $10 a visit), mink coats for dogs and jeweled collars and leashes that cost thousands of dollars! Dogs (and cats) have been named sole heirs to fortunes. And, Abby, there are even psychologists for dogs! I think dogs make charming pets, but when there are so many undernourished and unloved children in the world, they should come first.

MOTHER OF TEN

DEAR MOTHER: Considering the millions of dog-owners in the country, you are focusing far too much attention on the few oddballs who lavish thousands of dollars on jeweled collars, mink coats and leave their fortunes to their dogs. Dogs protect the blind, hunt down criminals, protect homes and provide companionship for many, so don't waste your energy worrying about what the Russians think.

☆ ☆ ☆

DEAR ABBY: Please tell me how to kiss a boy. I am going to a party the first of December and will need the information by then. I thank you.

NEEDS TO KNOW

DEAR NEEDS: How old are you? Anyone who needs information on how to kiss is too young to use it.

Hoffa: Attorney Quit, Not Fired

Nashville, Tenn. (AP)—Teamster President James R. Hoffa said his long-time legal counsel and friend, George S. Fitzgerald, resigned as a union attorney Thursday, but was not fired.

"We didn't fire him," Hoffa told a newsman. "He resigned."

The union leader said the Detroit News was in error in its copyrighted article that Fitzgerald was fired following a heated exchange between Hoffa and the Detroit lawyer outside the courtroom here where Hoffa is being tried on a $1 million conspiracy charge.

Fitzgerald, a former Michigan Democratic national committeeman, has been a Teamsters attorney since 1935.

He testified under subpoena last Monday as a government witness. The News said the heated exchange with Hoffa followed.

Hoffa said Fitzgerald's resignation had been under discussion for several weeks.

"He wanted to operate an insurance business and have other clients," Hoffa said. "I had told him we wanted an attorney that could work for the union full time."

Hoffa said he received Fitzgerald's resignation in the mail Thursday.

Hoffa is accused by the federal government of sharing with the late Owen Brennan, a Teamster vice president, in an alleged $1 million payoff.

Hoffa and Brennan allegedly were paid off through a trucking firm their wives owned to insure labor peace for another trucking firm.

Red Seamen Toss Garbage At U.S. Pilots

Key West, Fla. (AP) — Some of the Russian crewmen whose ships are inspected by U.S. pilots flying at mast top level don't like the surveillance a bit.

Cmdr. John F. Tierney, a tall, lean 40-year-old who has flown a number of photographic missions to check shipping bound to and from Cuba, told about it Thursday.

Sometimes they throw garbage at you and shake their fists," he said.

Nothing more deadly than garbage, though. Tierney said there have been no "incidents" during his flights, the most recent of which was Wednesday.

Not all the Soviet crewmen show resentment of the surveillance, though.

"They're just as likely to wave," Tierney said. "I think it breaks up their routine. They probably just say 'here comes those crazy fellows again."

Tierney, a 20-year-Navy veteran who has a wife and 5 children at Brunswick, Maine, said he's seen some women aboard Russianships who apparently are working crew members.

'Food Is Top Success Story'

. . . ASCS WORKSHOP DRAWS 800 HERE

By GLENN KREUSCHER
Farm Editor

Food production is America's No. 1 success story, said national and state speakers Thursday at the 1962 workshop of the Nebraska Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

Opening sessions of the two-day gathering in Lincoln drew more than 800 ASCS county committeemen, office managers and workers.

Hans O. Jensen, ASCS northwest area director, illustrated farmers' accomplishments: "Grandfather spent 40% of his income for food; today his grandson spends 20% for food and has 80% of his income left to provide a better way of living."

Danger Signals

Hartington banker Vince Rossiter illustrated danger signals of what can happen.

He warned farmers they must either learn to speak up and price their products high enough to keep up with the economy or face a depression 5 times worse than any before.

While the farmer has hiked his productivity to providing food and fiber for 27 people, Rossiter said, lack of a pricing and marketing mechanism has cost the farmer $60,000 income between 1951 and 1961.

'Shot At'

"Agriculture has been unnecessarily shot at so long that farmers are now afraid to stick their necks out," he declared.

He called on ASCS leaders to encourage a reawakening with positive programs. Farm payments are a "drop in the bucket" to what we stole from the farmer by buying his products too cheaply, he said.

He reminded ASCS workers how fast farm products change from surpluses to strategic reserves.

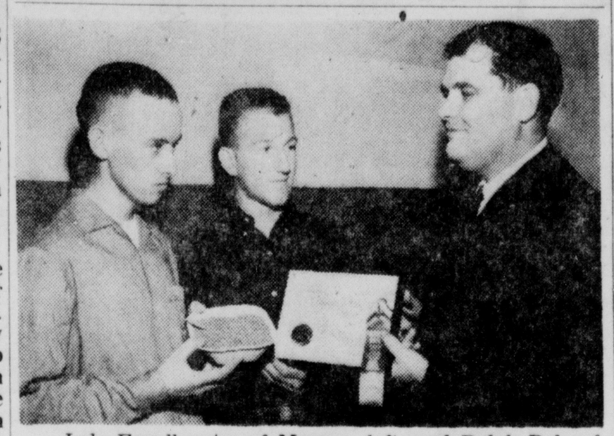

"This has happened twice in recent years," he recalled, "with the latest a few weeks back during the Cuban crisis."

Big Resource

Game Commission Director Mel Steen said: "You are what you are because of the resources you possess, and 75% of all your natural resources are in agriculture."

He stressed that conservation efforts must be expanded because the day is inevitable when Americans will need all the food and fiber they can produce.

Steen reminded ASCS workers he was the first wildlifer to suggest solving surpluses by taking land out of production and placing it under conservation programs.

Lyle Engelkemier of Murray, left, and Ralph Puls of Manley, center, are members of the Cass County 4-H team winning first in the junior crops judging contest. They are shown with Dean Raber, agricultural director for the Omaha Chamber of Commerce, which furnished award plaques. The 3rd team member, Larry Engelkemier, was not present when the photo was taken.

34th Air Refueling Squadron Is Honored

Omaha (AP) — Lt. Gen. John D. Ryan, commander of the Second Air Force, presented an outstanding unit citation to the 34th Air Refueling Squadron.

The 34th is stationed at Offutt Air Force Base.

Gen. Ryan said the citation was for the unit's "outstanding work in support of the airborne command post program."

Cass Co. Team Walks Off With Judging Honors

Lincoln Star Special

Hastings — Cass County's 4-H team won first place Thursday in the junior crops judging contest held in conjunction with the Nebraska Wheat Show at Hastings. Team members, Larry Engelkemier, Gene Engelkemier and Ralph Puls, scored a total of 1,413 of a possible 1,500 points.

Second place went to a Lancaster County 4-H team with a total of 1,398 points. On the team are Dwayne Siekman of Waverly, Jim Frederick of Lincoln and Steve Paschold of Firth. Lancaster County also won second place last year.

Other top 10 teams, in order: Grant FFA No. 2; North Platte FFA No. 1; Kimball FFA No. 2; Grant FFA No. 1; Kimball FFA No. 1; Minatare FFA No. 1; Kimball FFA No. 3 and North Platte FFA No. 2.

Gilbert P. Ankonin of Grant FFA won first place in individual competition with 489 of a possible 500 points. Other winners, in order, follow: Rex Cline, North Platte FFA; Jim Frederick of Lincoln, Lancaster 4-H; Larry Engelkemier, Cass 4-H; Ralph Puls, Cass 4-H; Steve Paschold, Lancaster 4-H; Gene Engelkemier, Cass 4-H; Gary Diffendolfer, Minatare FFA; Steve Schlager, Minatare FFA; and Dwight Young, Kimball FFA. —

No Boy Friend On Hand When Girl Pays Fine

A 21-year-old Lincoln woman was fined $100 in Municipal Court Thursday after the car she was driving was clocked at speeds up to 85 miles per hour in a 35 m.p.h. zone.

When arrested Wednesday night, she told the arresting officer her boyfriend had a sick friend in Milford and they were going to visit him.

She also said her boyfriend told her to "step on it" and that he would pay her ticket if they were caught speeding.

The girl spent the night in jail and the boy friend was not in court when she appeared, nor when she and a girl friend went to the clerk's office to pay her fine.

Historical Unit Wants Money For Staff Hike

The State Historical Society Thursday told Gov. Frank Morrison it needs additional funds in the coming biennium to make its salaries competitive, add needed personnel and improve its public services.

The society is asking for $476,770, compared with $330,533 appropriated this biennium.

The Historical Landmark Council asked for $11,600 compared with its present appropriation of $3,321, and the Centennial Commission asked for $72,480, compared with its current $25,000.

Most of the commission's request would be for the employment of a director, and pay costs of advertising and promotion work for the centennial.

It is separate from the special .07 mill levy the commission will ask from the 1963 Legislature, and would discontinue when funds from that source come in if the special levy request is approved.

On another budget matter, the Oil and Gas Commission asked for $206,001 for 1963, compared with $212,996 appropriated for this biennium. No general funds are involved.

Counter Spy Is Charged As Spy

Paris (AP) — A member of the French counter-intelligence service Thursday found himself on the other side of the fence — charged with espionage.

Pierre Cardot, 33, was accused by magistrate Alain Simon of espionage activities. The magistrate said police had found a secret radio transmitter in Cardot's home along with a decoding maching and some invisible ink. The charge did not specify the power for which Cardot is accused of spying.

Common Market Negotiators 'May Need To Use Big Stick'

Hastings (AP) — A retired grain trade leader said Thursday that U.S. negotiators to the Common Market should be prepared to use a "juicy carrot" or a "big stick," or both, in gaining access to Western European markets for U.S. grain.

In a speech at the annual Nebraska Wheat Show, Dr. Julius Hendel of Minneapolis said "it would be well if our State Department negotiators included more farm boys aware of the problem and fewer city boys."

He urged Midwestern congressmen to insist that the negotiators "do some hard bargaining."

The administration's trade bill, enacted in September, will be a worthless tool for protecting U.S. farm interests "unless it is used widely and aggressively," he warned.

Dr. Hendel is the retired vice president of the Cargill, Inc., of Minneapolis.

He said the new trade law, which gives broad authority to the administration in raising and lowering tariffs on individual items, could be used as bait to discourage discriminatory agricultural tariffs by Common Market countries. U.S. negotiators could lower tariffs on imported goods in return for lower duties on farm exports to Western Europe, he pointed out.

Road Bids Opened

Bids were opened Thursday by the State Department of Roads on 20 highway construction projects at an estimated total cost of $8,100,000. Announcement of apparent low bidders was expected Friday.

Happy Holidays—With Buns

CRANBERRY BUNS
(Makes 18 buns)

½ cup milk
½ cup sugar
1½ teaspoons salt
¼ cup margarine or butter
½ cup warm water (105°-115° F.)
2 packages or cakes yeast, active dry or compressed
2 eggs, beaten
4½ cups unsifted flour (about)
Cranberry Filling (below)
Confectioners' Sugar Frosting

Scald milk; stir in sugar, salt and margarine. Cool to lukewarm. Measure warm water into warm bowl. Sprinkle or crumble in yeast; stir until dissolved. Stir in lukewarm milk mixture, eggs and 3 cups flour. Beat until smooth. Add enough remaining flour to form a soft dough. Turn out on lightly floured board and knead until smooth and elastic, about 8-10 minutes. Place in lightly greased bowl, turning to grease all sides.

Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about one hour.

Punch down. Divide dough in half. Roll one half of dough into an oblong 14x9 inches. Spread with half of Cranberry Filling (below). Roll up as for jelly roll to make roll 9 inches long. Seal edges firmly. Cut into 9 equal pieces. 9-inch layer cakepan. Repeat with remaining half of dough. Cover. Let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour.

Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) about 25 minutes or until done.

When slightly cool, top with confectioners' sugar icing.

CRANBERRY FILLING

Combine 2 cups ground cranberries, ¾ cup sugar and 2 teaspons cinnamon in saucepan. Bring to a boil and simmer for 5 minutes, stirring frequently. Stir in ½ cup chopped pecans. Cool.

Buffet Supper

For impromptu suppers or snacks during the holiday season, there is nothing more satisfactory than a "planned-over" supply of cold roast beef. For buffet, serve the cold roast in thin slices with an assortment of hot, crisp breads — French, rye, Swedish limpa, Wesphalia pumpernickel — and curls of salted butter. Add a pot of hot English mustard or mellow French dijon mustard, blended with port wine, a fresh green salad with Roquefort dressing, potato salad or plain cold boiled potatoes with fresh pepper, parsley and sour cream. With coffee, serve a rich, dark devil's food cake — and don't spare the frosting!

That Festive Flair

When the holiday season rolls around, it's time to put out a little extra effort to add a special festive flair to the meals you serve.

For holiday fare to win the hearts of the most discriminating people, try a twist on the traditional and serve Rock Cornish hens. These individual golden-brown beauties filled with a delectable blue cheese-wild rice stuffing are delighful at holiday time, or perfect for special meals any time.

The secret that makes this recipe for Rock Cornish hens truly superlative lies in the wild rice stuffing. It's made with mushrooms and mellow American blue cheese for a savory flavor beyond compare.

ROCK CORNISH HENS WITH BLUE CHEESE-WILD RICE-MUSHROOM STUFFING

(Serves 6)

3 cups water
Place cut side up in greased
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup wild rice
½ cup butter
2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
½ cup sliced cooked mushrooms
½ cup crumbled blue cheese (about 3 ounces)
6 Rock Cornish game hens, (thawed, if frozen)
3 teaspoons salt
⅓ cup butter, melted

Bring salted water to a boil. Wash rice several times, and add to boiling water. Cover and simmer for one hour without stirring until tender. Drain, if necessary. Melt ½ cup butter. Saute onion and mushrooms in melted butter until lightly browned. Toss lightly with wild rice and American blue cheese.

Rinse hens with water and pat dry. Rub cavities with salt. Fill lightly with wild rice mixture. To close cavities, sew or skewer and lace with cord. Tie legs together. Brush with ⅓ cup melted butter. Roast uncovered at 350 degrees for one hour or until done.

Something From Italy

When you serve this delightful dish, reminiscent of sunny southern Italy, better have copies of the recipe to give your guests—they're sure to ask for it. So succulent is this casserole, with its exciting, unusual flavors that it makes a real feast for your most discriminating friends.

RIBS IN A CAN

Two-and-a-half pounds of smoky, meat-heavy Back Ribs and a spectacular barbecue sauce. So good, so unusual—they're a gourmet's bargain even at $3.09*

Everything's gourmet about these Back Ribs. We hickory smoke them to get a flavor you might achieve if you charcoal broiled them yourself.

We experimented with dozens of sauces—and finally decided to make our own. Nine ingredients, six spices, a nice blend of hot and mild.

Meaty ribs. Spicy sauce. We cook them together very slowly (over 3 hours) so the good flavors intermingle.

This is what we do. So all you do is just heat them in the oven for 20 minutes. A can serves 4. So deliciously, so heartily, so meatily—you just may say they should cost more.

If you're lucky, you may find them for a little less in some stores.*
(And that will be as lucky as you can get!)

"We all like Mrs. Grass Soup BETTER...

YOU KNOW how persnickety kids are about foods. Before each of 1,000 we set two bowls of noodle soup... Mrs. Grass and another famous brand. 3 out of 4 preferred Mrs. Grass. Number 4 probably hated soup, anyway.

THE "ALL-AMERICAN" KID GOES FOR MRS. GRASS SOUP BECAUSE:

It tastes home-made—mild, pleasoning seasoning.
It has more flavor—chicken-y rich, because it has the exclusive Golden Nugget with its sealed-in chicken-y flavor.
It has more noodles—50% more than any other mix and
It's so economical—25% more soup than other mixes.

Leaders Seek Funds For Culture

Washington (AP) — President Kennedy said Thursday night that America will be remembered when the dust of centuries has past, not so much for its victories in battle or politics as for its contribution to the human spirit.

Launching a fund raising drive for a national cultural center, he said a democratic society has a special responsibility to the arts, which disregards race, religion, color and wealth.

"Today as always," the President told a nationwide closed circuit television audience of many thousands, "art knows no national boundaries." Art must be considered "not as a weapon in the struggle" among nations "but as an instrument in the understanding of the futility of struggle."

President and Mrs. Kennedy, appearing before an audience of more than 5,000 at a $100 a plate dinner and two-hour show in the National Guard armory, opened the telecast.

Kennedy introduced former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, under whose administration, he said the idea of the cultural center was adopted by Congress.

The $30 million cultural center would be built on the banks of the Potomac here.

As Eisenhower's smiling face appeared on the huge TV screen from Augusta, Ga., where he is vacationing, there was a burst of long applause.

Mrs. Kennedy introduced to the audience in 65 cities across the country her fellow honorary co-chairman of the cultural center, former first lady Mamie Eisenhower. It was one of Mrs. Eisenhower's rare appearances on television.

A private gift of $100,000 touched off what the center backers hoped will be a drive to raise the $30 million needed to make the center a reality.

President Kennedy, in his brief opening remarks, assured the officials of his administration that this demonstration for the arts was modest and painless compared with what has been required of past governments.

In 1664, he said, Louis XIV, in his own efforts to encourage the arts, donned brilliant tights to play in a drama before his court.

There was some reported griping prior to the telecast among defense contractors whose representatives complained they were pressured to attend a White House meeting at which President Kennedy urged them to support the drive.

Rowan Fined $500 In Motor Vehicle Death

Arlyn Rowan, found guilty of motor vehicle homicide by a Lancaster District Court jury in October, was fined $500 Thursday by District Judge Elmer Scheele.

Rowan, 29, of Fleming, Colo., was convicted in connection with the April 24 death of Otto E. Hagemoser of Seward.

Mr. Hagemoser, 51, died after being struck by a semi-trailer truck driven by Rowan on U.S. 34 about 10 miles west of Lincoln.

Mr. Hagemoser was working as a flagman on a construction project at the time of the accident.

ASSOCIATION IS DISSOLVED

—SPEED, DEFENSE WORRY—

Motz Lone Starter Back At Northeast

By CONDE SARGENT
Prep Sports Writer

Jerry Motz will be a regular at Northeast for the second straight year.

He'll be surrounded by players of similar height with scoring expected to be fairly balanced, just as last year.

But don't expect the same results, such as another state high school basketball championship.

And don't expect coach Ed Johnson's 1962-63 team to be patsies either.

Lone Regular

Motz, a 6-1 junior with a good shooting eye, is the only returning regular from Johnson's second state champion.

Seniors Stan Grell and Larry Hubka are lettermen as is Les Tyrrell, another senior but on the sidelines recovering from a knee operation.

Also on the varsity are 3 seniors, 4 juniors and a pair of sophomores.

Lack Experience

A factor which restricts Johnson's optimism is that Motz is the only player who has played under heavy varsity fire.

The veteran Rocket coach voices approval of the team's overall shooting ability and the rebounding capabilities of husky lads like Motz, Grell, 6-1 junior Dennis Bargman, jumper Tom Ochsner, 6-0 sophomore, and lanky Ken Jones, 6-4.

"Speed and defense are our biggest worries at the moment," Johnson concludes.

"I think they shoot okay and are a shade bigger than last year."

Seek Berths

The 3 healthy lettermen are sure-fire starters. Bargman, Ochsner, junior Terry Monk, and transfer Mike Wright are gunning for other opening berths with Jones, Chuck Turek, Gary Remington, Art Scott, and soph Gary Thompson definitely in the picture.

All newcomers but the sophs and transferee Wright are graduates of a successful reserve team.

The sophomores were members of an undefeated YMCA team which annexed a state title last year.

Rough Road

This group of Rockets will have to prove themselves on the road with only 3 games slated for Northeast's gym.

A two-game western junket opens the season, Dec. 7 at Kearney and the next evening at North Platte, probably a state power.

Other tough road engagements are to Columbus, Hastings, Grand Island, Bellevue and Omaha South — not to mention the 4 Intra-City battles at the Public Schools Activities Building with Lincoln High and Southeast.

Northeast has won the city and Lincoln district title two years in a row.

Roster

Stan Grell	6-1	Sr.
Larry Hubka	6-0	Sr.

Pacific Coast, IL Add Teams

. . . 10-CLUB LEAGUES FORMED

Rochester, N.Y. (AP)— The International League and the Pacific Coast League absorbed the American Association and became two 10-club leagues Thursday in the most sweeping reorganization of the the minors in baseball history.

The American Association, a pillar of the minors since 1902, yielded Dallas-Fort Worth, Oklahoma City and Denver to the Pacific Coast. Little Rock, which had replaced Louisville after the 1962 season, and Indianapolis moved into the reluctant International League, which finally gave in to pressure from the majors.

Under the terms of a far reaching new deal for the minors adopted Thursday, the majors will underwrite at least 100 minor league clubs in three classifications — Triple A, Double A and A.

The expanded Pacific Coast League and International account for the 20 Triple A clubs as planned. Each big league club, except Washington, has at least one farm club in either one of the Triple A leagues. Milwaukee has two — Toronto in the International and Denver in the PCL.

With the demise of the Association and Wednesday's folding of the Alabama-Florida League in Class D, the minors were down to 18 leagues. Four are Double A — the Texas, Eastern, South Atlantic and Mexican. All the others which used to be classed B, C or D are in Class A.

The impasse at the Triple A level was resolved suddenly after 5 days of endless meetings and arguments. The International Wednesday rejected all requests to expand to 10 or 12 clubs. During the night the league had a change of heart.

"We are not against the transfers in themselves, as against the problem of additional expenses," said Tommy Richardson, president of the International. "They (the majors) came to us and promised to absorb the additional travel costs. I would say that would run as high as $7,000 for each club."

In any event the International League's holdover cities of Buffalo, Rochester, Syracuse, Toronto, Richmond, Jacksonville, Atlanta and Columbus now have two new brothers — Little Rock and Indianapolis. Richardson said it will be decided later whether to operate the league in two divisions and whether the league will play 144, 153 or 162 games.

Dewey Soriano, president of the Pacific Coast League, said his organization would meet in two weeks, probably in Seattle, to set up its operations. There were signs that the Pacific Coast League might have two divisions — Dallas-Fort Worth, Oklahoma City, Denver, Salt Lake City and San Diego in one section and Portland, Tacoma, Seattle, Spokane and Hawaii in the other.

Majors Vote One All-Star Tilt In '63

New York (AP) — Major league baseball players and club-owners agreed Thursday to return to one All-Star game a season and it was learned the game would be played at St. Paul-Minneapolis on July 9.

The return to one game, rumored since the World Series, was sealed when the clubowners agreed that in the future the players pension would receive 95 per cent of all receipts, including radio and television monies, from the game, an increase of 35 per cent.

Commissioner Ford Frick said under the old 60-40 split, the club-owners allocated all but 5 per cent of their 40 per cent for the minor league aid fund. This fund was abolished earlier Thursday under a minor league reorganization plan adopted in Rochester.

Frick said that the actual loss to the players would amount to about $50,000 a year for their pension fund.

In other action, it was agreed that the teams finishing 5th in the standings would be included in the split of World Series receipts; that there would be no night getaway games before a following day game, and that there would be no regularly scheduled day-night doubleheaders at which separate admissions are charged.

It was learned that the owners had rejected a players' request that the minimum salary be increased from $7,000 to $7,500.

Empire Marathon Win Goes To English Ace

Perth, Australia (AP)—Brian Kilby, a slightly built runner from Coventry, England, won the marathon Thursday and capped a triumphal surge of track and field successes for British athletes in the Empire and Commonwealth Games.

The 24-year-old Kilby led for the final 10 miles of the 26-mile, 385-yard grind through Perth suburbs, the nearby countryside and around Perry Lakes Stadium.

Other England track and field gold medals Thursday:

Dorothy Hyman, 220 yards in 23.8 seconds, giving her the 100-220 yards double in women's sprints.

Martyn Lucking won the shot put with a games record throw of 59 feet, 4 inches on his first attempt.

Susan Platt tossed the javelin 164 feet, 10½ inches against the wind.

England also picked up a gold medal by Louis Martin in the middle heavyweight weightlifting.

Australia, well ahead in gold medals, got only one:

Ian Tomlinson won the hop, step and jump with a games record of 53 feet, 2 inches. Jaamica's George Kerr upset England's Robbie Brightwell in the 440-yard dash, timed in 46.7 seconds.

—ANOTHER MAKES GRADE—

Tingelhoff Named To All-Rookie Team

New York (UPI) — Another big batch of rookies made the grade in the National Football League this season and an all-rookie team for 1962 is loaded with talent.

The Los Angeles Rams, Dallas Cowboys and Cleveland Browns dominate the 22-man brigade selected annually in this corner. There are standouts at every offensive and defensive position except quarterback where, as the pros rightfully insist, it's the experience that counts.

Ron Miller of the Rams rates the quarterback edge over his teammate, Roman Gabriel, and Washington's Galen Hall largely because he was "exposed" to the enemy more often. Miller completed 17 of 43 passes for 250 yards and one touchdown in games to date.

The Rams placed a total of 4, Dallas and Cleveland 3 each in the top 22 listed herewith and their college affiliation in parenthesis:

Bad Deal

Before the dissenters set up a howl, I'll plead nolo contendere to partisanship.

With that settled, I now go on record as taking issue with the 1962 Associated Press All Big 8 team. My reason is simple: Dennis Claridge of Nebraska was unquestionably the league's oustanding quarterback, and one of the finest all-around backs — and the AP voters relegated him to the second team.

I realize that the pre-season tub-thumpers put the spotlight on Gale Sayers of Kansas and Johnny Roland of Missouri early, and both certainly had fine years.

But I find it difficult to swallow this hully-gully rush to honor sophomores, while by-passing a tested and outstanding player like Claridge.

My All Big 8 backfield would have Claridge at quarterback, Dave Hoppmann of Iowa State at left halfback, Sayers at right halfback and Jim Grisham of Oklahoma at fullback.

It strikes me that the honor backfield decision should have been based on which of the two soph halfbacks — Sayers or Roland — should be excluded, and in my book Sayers rates a slight edge.

Claridge Key

Claridge deserves All Big 8 status because he was the key to a Nebraska comeback that brought the Huskers from 6th to 3rd and a chance for the championship.

True, he wasn't able to guide the Huskers to victory over Oklahoma and Missouri, but the record shows he fared much better against tougher competition than did Roland, for example.

Against the loop's toughest 4 clubs — Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri and Iowa State — Denny gained 405 yards for a 101.2 average; against OU, KU, IS and Nebraska, Roland gained 285 for a 71.2 average.

Against the top two, OU and MU, Claridge accounted for 174 yards and an 87.0 average; against Oklahoma and Nebraska Roland produced 147 yards for a 73.5 average.

Against the Big 8 champions, Oklahoma, Claridge netted 130 yards, while Roland supplied 19, a mere 9 rushing and that was his main claim to fame.

Claridge has other credentials, aside from leadership ability and clutch jobs against the toughies. The Husker wound up as the No. 2 total offense producer with 1199 yards, second only to the fabulous Hoppmann.

Roland was second to Sayers in rushing, with 830 yards, and finished no better than 4th in total offense. Apparently he got heavy support for scoring 78 points.

Constant Praise

Another point which makes the AP's snub of Claridge so difficult to understand is that every coach on Nebraska's schedule, while they might debate the merits of other backs in the loop, steadfastly stated that Denny was the finest quarterback in the Big 8 and one of the best in the nation.

And I recall hearing Bud Wilkinson remark, after Oklahoma had bombed Nebraska: Dennis Claridge, without a doubt, is one of the top two or three real outstanding athletes in the Big 8 Conference."

Partisanship? Damn right, but Dennis Claridge is an All Big 8 quarterback, even if the AP hasn't gotten the word.

PS: Congratulations to Husker Tyrone Robertson for landing a spot on the AP's honor squad. It was a fine honor for the Husker senior who has worked hard and well during his NU career.

Final Fling

Heading into the final week of the 1962 regular season, the Point Blank crystal ball has tabbed 432 games correctly, while missing on 112 for a .794 average.

Memo to the brave chap who called my wife and cussed her out because he "lost $300" last week as a result of the Point Blank picks: Call a bookie next time, friend. We don't give guarantees — if I could guarantee every pick and score, I wouldn't have to write this, or field phone calls from the sick set. And by the way, I've never lost a dime on my football predictions.

Dunkel Basketball Chart Predicts Bearcat Repeat

. . . FAVORS TEXAS TECH OVER NU

By DICK DUNKEL

1-1-2-2-2.

That's how the University of Cincinnati basketball team ranked nationally at the conclusion of each of the last 5 seasons.

And the Bearcat prognosis for the new season which starts tonight is as follows: 1.

Departed from the national champion's roster is 6-9 center Paul Hogue, but returning are star forwards Ron Bonham and George Wilson, and sterling guards Tony Yates and Tom Thacker, plus a queue of replacements for Hogue.

After that, the dark. A host of fine prospects makes the business of preseason rankings more of a farce than ever this year.

However, here's a list of outstanding candidates for high national ranking, the order meaning little:

EAST—Providence, Villanova, St. Joseph's, New York U, St. Bonaventure, Princeton, Niagara, LaSalle, St. John's, Yale.

MIDWEST—Cincinnati, Bowling Green, Illinois, Loyola of Chicago, Dayton, Kansas State, Indiana, Colorado, Wichita, Drake, Creighton, Wisconsin, Xavier.

SOUTH—Duke, Kentucky, Louisville, Mississippi State, West Virginia, Auburn, Clemson, Wake Forest, Florida.

SOUTHWEST—Houston, Texas, Texas A & M, Arizona State, Southern Methodist, Arkansas, Texas Christian Rice.

FAR WEST—UCLA, Stanford, Oregon State, Seattle, Colorado State.

Since the Dunkel Index precisely is provable by team records, it is a truth-seeking and not an odds-making device. Odds are a conception of the future not responsible to anything within our knowledge.

Index coverage starts with carryover ratings for teams involved in the heavy opening schedule for tonight and Saturday night. New ratings will result from first games.

As in the past, 4.0 will be added to the rating of each home team in our listing of pre-game comparisons beginning with the following:

Forty Persons Apply For Coaching Post At Colorado, Carlson Reports

Boulder, Colo. (AP) — Director of athletics Harry Carlson said Thursday about 40 persons have applied for the football coaching post at the University of Colorado.

The university, a member of the Big Eight Conference, has had two changes in the head coach's position in less than 9 months.

Carlson said the new coach may be named before the unofficial Jan. 15 deadline set by university officials.

A Boulder source said Bill Weeks, head coach at New Mexico, and Homer Smith, an assistant at the U.S. Air Force Academy, were among applicants.

"If the right person for coach becomes clear in our minds, I'm for going right ahead and naming a coach," Carlson said. He said he has talked to directors of athletics Bud Wilkinson at Oklahoma, Don Faurot at Missouri and Tippy Dye at Nebraska about any prospects they may know about.

Dal Ward, former Colorado coach who was named assistant director of athletics Wednesday will have nothing to do with the head coaching job, Carlson said.

"He'll counsel present varsity and freshman football players and operate a recruiting program until the new head coach arrives," the director said.

Navy, USC Picked Over Opponents

New York (AP) — This is the toughest weekend of the college football season to pick the winners not that every weekend isn't tough.

Navy over Army — Coach Paul Dietzel would give his right arm to beat the Middies in this his first season as boss of the Cadets but will have to wait at least another year.

Southern California over Notre Dame — Trojans are champions of Big Six and in Rose Bowl. Now they need a victory over the Irish to tighten their grip on ranking as nation's No. 1 team, a spot no West Coast team has achieved since Southern Cal in 1939.

Oklahoma over Oklahoma State — Cowboys haven't beaten bitter rival Sooners since 1945, and Oklahoma's much too hot to handle this year.

Georgia Tech over Georgia — Rambling Wreck has been rolling since midseason and is anxious to prove that triumph over Alabama was no fluke.

Texas Christian over Southern Methodist — Sonny Gibbs and Horned Frogs still have hopes of landing a bowl bid.

Mississippi over Mississippi State — Sugar Bowl bound Rebels need this one to become first Ole Miss team to go unbeaten in 70 years of college football.

UCLA over Utah — Utah isn't in the same class with UCLA.

Alabama over Auburn—Alabama was embarrassed by that loss to Georgia Tech and wants to redeem itself, but don't be surprised if Auburn manhandles Crimson Tide.

Tennessee over Vanderbilt — Both teams have had sad seasons, but Vols will end theirs on a happy note.

Florida over Miami — George Mira's passing won't be enough to overcome Fighting Gators.

Boston College over Holy Cross —It's BC's tough defense against Pat McCarthy's running.

Tecumseh Hopes Old Adage Will Hold True For Cagers

... PREP PROSPECTING

Tecumseh—One good thing leads to another.

So it's hoped at Tecumseh that the basketball squad will be as successful as the once-beaten football team which was ranked second best in Class C.

There is reason to believe the cagers will fare real well. Coach LeRoy Zentic has 6 returning lettermen and all started at some time or another while the Indians were winning 7 of 21 games.

Chuck Lacey, slim 6-1 junior after his 3rd letter, was last year's leading scorer. Other full time starters last year were John Swanson, Gary Waring, and Bob Dillaplain.

Juniors Richard Martin and Mike Kavanaugh were occassional regulars.

All the lettermen are 6-0 or 6-1.

The Indians' Class B-dominated schedule includes a home game with Lincoln University High on Dec. 15.

Schedule — Dec.—7, at Pawnee City; 11, Plattsmouth; 14, at Auburn; 15, Uni High; Jan.—4, Humboldt; 5, at Falls City; 1, Pawnee City; 18, Nebraska City; 22-25, SE Border tourney; Feb.—1, at Weeping Water; 2, at Superior; 5, at Syracuse; 8, Auburn; 15, at Wymore; 16, Johnson; 22, Falls City.

Best All-Around Player For Wilber Is Emeigh

Wilber — Senior George Emeigh is Wilber's best all-around basketball player.

Other lettermen — Mike Hrach, Don Javorsky, Dennis Havranek, Bob Petracek, Dan Dietrich.

Schedule — Dec.—7, Wymore; 14, at Hebron; 18, at Odell; 21, at Pawnee City; Jan.—4, Harvard; 11, at Sutton; 18, at Humboldt; 22, at Western; 25, at Geneva; 29, DeWitt; Feb.—1, Friend; 8, at Deshler; 15, Seward Concordia; 19, at Milford; 22, Exeter.

1962 Runnerup Utica Has 3 Starters Back

Utica — Class C basketball runnerup in 1962, Utica will get a lot of support in its class this year.

The Tigers of coach Duane Smith return 8 lettermen, including 3 starters.

Six-three Larry Semin, a Sunday Journal and Star Class C all-state pick a year ago, guard Larry Niemann and junior forward Roger Elrod (6-2) ramrodded Utica to a 23-3 season.

Smith rates lettermen Clyde Naber and John Hladky, 6-3 junior, and 6-3 soph newcomer Butch Rohren as potential starters.

Utica came to the state tourney a year ago unseeded and slammed its way to the finals where champion Spencer proved superior.

Other lettermen — Curtis Gierhan, Phil Barnes, Jim Sampson.

Schedule — Dec.—7, Milford; 8, Beaver Crossing; 14, at Gresham; 21, at Henderson; Jan.—4, Friend; 5, at East Butler; 11, Shelby; 12, at Louisville; 25, York St. Joseph; 26, at Seward Concordia; Feb.—1, at Dorchester; 2, Omaha St. Joseph; 9, Exeter; 15, Fairmont; 16, Hastings St. Cecilia.

Stewart, Zoubek Head Western's Veteran 5

Western — An all-veteran basketball team at Western is headed by 3-year lettermen Jim Stewart and Jerome Zoubek.

Other lettermen — Allen Brozovsky, Mike Carney, Jim Henk, Larry Weishahn, Charley Nelson, Randy Krajnik, Dale Larkins.

Schedule — Dec.—7, Daykin; 11, at Endicott; 14, Dorchester; Jan.—4, at Shickley, 7-10, Cloverleaf at Milligan; 18, at Ohiowa; 22, Wilber; 26, Alexandria; Feb.—1, Bruning; 8, at Tobias; 15, Milligan; 16, at Plymouth; 22, at Diller.

Transfer Lettermen Boost Superior Hopes

Superior — Two transfer lettermen have upped the basketball veteran total to 9 at Superior.

Sophomores Larry Brady, from Edgar, and Jim Curfman, from Harvard, have joined the Wildcats.

Ken Major, former Nebraska Wesleyan cager, is the coach of the Class B school.

Other lettermen — Cal Hiner, Howard Miller, Mike Thurber, Dennis Wilton, Dick Beckius, Bill Henderson, Larry Roder.

Schedule — Dec.—8, at Holdrege; 14, at Hastings St. Cecilia; 18, at Franklin; 21, at Harvard; Jan.—11, Red Cloud; 18, Deshler; 26, Belleville, Kan., Feb.—1, at Wymore; 2, Tecumseh; 8, Aurora; 9, at Grand Island Catholic; 15, at Nelson; 22, Sutton; March 1—at Hebron.

Waverly Sets Hopes On 6 Returning Lettermen

Waverly — Look for Waverly's basketball team to run, run, run.

Coach Dick Hagemoser's club, which has 6 lettermen, isn't very tall. Newcomer Kenny Kalkwarf, 6-2 junior, is the biggest Viking.

Jerry Campbell and John Westland are the top returnees from last year's team. It won 12 and lost 6.

The Vikings are members of the Eastern Nebraska Conference for the first year.

Other lettermen — Steve Nordstrom, Doug Marolf, Roger Polenz, Randy Armstrong.

Schedule — Dec.—7, at Fremont Bergan; 14, Syracuse; 18, Weeping Water; 21, Valparaiso; Jan.—4, at Louisville; 5, at Millard; 11, at Seward Concordia; 12, Arlington; 18, at Platteview; 22, Bennington; 25, Wahoo; Feb.—1, Alvo-Eagle; 4-8, ENC at Platteview; 15, Gretna; 19, at Elkhorn; 22, Ceresco.

Baseball Coach Ralph Kress Dies

Los Angeles (AP) — Veteran baseball coach Ralph (Red) Kress, who appeared to be in good health when he took a physical checkup only a week ago, died of a heart seizure Wednesday night at his home in suburban Canoga Park.

Kress, 55, spent a dozen seasons in the major leagues as a player and first coached in 1940, at Detroit. He later served as a coach with the New York Giants (1946-49), Cleveland Indians (1953-60), Los Angeles Angels (1961-) and New York Mets (1962).

Kress came up to the majors in 1927 and played for the St. Louis Browns, Chicago White Sox, Washington Senators, Detroit Tigers and New York Giants. He appeared in 1,391 games and had a career batting average of .286.

Husker Grapplers Will Begin Season Saturday

Nebraska's wrestling team will open its schedule Saturday against Indiana State, Wisconsin and Bloomsburg in a quadrangular at Terre Haute, Ind. The meet will be scored also on a dual basis.

Bloomsburg is the defending NAIA champion, Indiana State won the Indiana Central Conference title last year and the University of Wisconsin is favored to take the Big Ten crown this season.

Coach Bob Mancuso's Cornhusker matmen last year recorded 9 wins, two losses and a tie to provide Nebraska with its top mat record in many years.

However, the loss of 5 members of the 1961-'62 team which finished 4th in the Big Eight championships and 9th in the NCAA, will hurt, Mancuso said. He has just 3 returning lettermen from a year ago.

Missing are Dave Cook, Jim Faiman, Gordon Chipman, Dan Hoevet, Harold Thompson and Jim Raschke. Thompson and Raschke were unbeaten in dual competition a year ago and both were Big Eight champions.

Returning lettermen include Richard Van Sickle, 130 pounds; Ken Fox, 177 and Mike Nissen, 123. Nissen will captain this year's squad and will be trying for his third season of dual competition without a loss.

Mancuso has 3 sophomore prospects who should develop rapidly. All three, Steve Walenz, 115; Charles Clatterbuck, 147 and Mike Tillotson, 167, are former Nebraska high school champions.

Mancuso will take 10 wrestlers on the Terre Haute trip. They are Walenz, 115; Nissen, 123; Van Sickle, 130; Chuck Martin, 137; Clatterbuck, 147; Bruce O'Callaghan or Jim Wiest, 157; Mike Tillotson, 167; Ken Fox, 177; Don McDermott, 191; Bob Zartner, heavyweight.

No wonder someone buys a new Chrysler every 1.2 minutes

Six days a week, eight hours a day, every 1.2 minutes, somebody buys a Chrysler.
Naturally, that surprising Chrysler price you see above has plenty to do with this remarkable record. But we maintain that no car sells at such a pace on price alone. That's where Chrysler stands up tall to be counted. Counted in terms of crisp, custom looks that already have received acclaim from many of America's leading fashion and design experts.
Counted also in terms of the extra gifts only Chrysler engineering can offer. Unibody, for example, that's as solid as a safe—with no bolts to breed rattles or squeaks. Or V-8 engines. Newport carries a big V-8 that's been a steady winner in the Mobilgas Economy Run. Suspension? Remember, that $2964 price includes torsion-bar suspension that makes handling a smile. Chrysler handles beautifully. Fabrics? Count on them to cost up to $10.00 a yard—if you could buy them. Think about that price once more—$2964. Then consider . . .

A NEW 5-YEAR/50,000-MILE WARRANTY†! For '63, your Chrysler dealer offers an extended power-train warranty. Be sure to ask him for the facts.
Once you do, we're thinking '63 Chryslers will be selling at an even happier rate.
Say, about one every 55 seconds.

*Manufacturer's suggested retail price of Newport 4-door sedan, exclusive of destination charges. White wall tires extra.

†Your authorized Chrysler Dealer's Warranty against defects in material and workmanship on 1963 cars has been expanded to include parts replacement or repair, without charge for required parts or labor, for 5 years or 50,000 miles, whichever comes first, on the engine block, head and internal parts; transmission case and internal parts (excluding manual clutch); torque converter, drive shaft, universal joints (excluding dust covers), rear axle and differential, and rear wheel bearings, provided the vehicle has been serviced at reasonable intervals according to the Chrysler Certified Car Care schedules.

Chemistry Grant Awarded

Dr. James H. Looker, professor of chemistry at the University of Nebraska, has been awarded a Public Health Service grant of $15,311 for the study of the chemistry of plant pigments. This is the sixth year of the continuing study.

The research is investigating the chemical properties and the structure of certain pigments occurring naturally in plants. However, all of the research pigments are bought commercially.

Some of the pigments have medicinal value, according to Dr. Looker. Rutin, isolated from the green buckwheat plant, may be used to strengthen blood vessels. The research also investigates pigments taken from the opium poppy.

The University research team works with the laboratories of a drug firm, which in turn studies the biological activities of the compounds.

NEW TELEPHONE DIRECTORIES HAVE BEEN DELIVERED

The new 1963 telephone directories for Lincoln and near-by towns were delivered this week. If you have a telephone and did not receive a copy, please call the Business Office, 435-4321. If we did not pick up your old copy, please destroy it.

THE CHANGE TO ALL NUMBER CALLING IS NOW COMPLETE

Perhaps you've noticed that all telephone numbers have now been changed to seven numerals, replacing the letter-number combinations. Known as All Number Calling, this has been adopted as the national system for coast-to-coast dialing.

If your number is one of these, please note that the number is not actually changed. The letters simply become numerals from the same openings in the dial. In dialing your number, people will reach you whether they dial the letters or the corresponding numerals.

For this reason, it will not be necessary to replace stationery or other printed matter on which your telephone number appears. However, when new supplies are ordered the seven numerals should be listed.

Why the change to numerals?

There are several reasons why the national system was changed to All Number Calling. The principal ones are:

1. This provides about 50% more telephone numbers than the letter-number plan. With the rapid growth of telephones in this country the national industry was actually running out of numbers for nationwide dialing.

2. Confusion between similar letters and numerals is eliminated. For instance, people would dial the letter "O" for the numeral zero and the letter "I" for the numeral one. Difficulties of spelling and pronunciation are also avoided. For example, dialing WI for Wyman, MU for Mercury, etc.

3. Dialing errors also resulted from pesky "soundalikes," such as MItchell and MUtual. Confusing B and P, and F and S also caused trouble.

4. Ultimately, when all the nation's telephones have been changed to ANC, your dial plate can be simplified by removing the letters and making the numbers larger.

5. Through the use of satellite communication, such as Telstar, direct dialing of calls from one country to another will someday become commonplace. When this time comes, All Number Calling will provide a plan that is standard for all nations.

If you have any questions, the Business Office, 435-4321, will be glad to help you.

Glow-In-Dark Plates To Be Sought

B. H. G. Eiting, state motor vehicle director said Thursday he will seek adoption of legislation that would make it mandatory for Nebraska motor vehicle license plates to glow in the dark.

Nebraska presently has conventional type plates similar to those used in most other states. Eiting wants reflector type plates substituted for these.

He said the reflector plates have been proven to cut down on accidents and highway fatalities.

Eiting noted he has been studying the possibility of reflector plates "for about a year now" and that a recent trip to Minnesota where he was given a demonstration of the plates convinced him of their worth.

Presently Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota and New Mexico have luminous license plates, he said. Iowa is slated to come out with the reflector plates Jan. 1.

Eiting said that it would cost about 50 cents per vehicle every two years to produce reflector plates. However, he noted that Nebraska would not have to purchase any additional equipment, with the exception of the material used to produce the glowing effect.

State license plates are manufactured by inmates of the Men's Reformatory.

"What this would amount to would be each motor vehicle operator contributing 50 cents towards increased safety on our Nebraska roads," Eiting said.

RESOURCE DIVISION TELLS 'NEBRASKA'S WATER STORY'

The Division of Nebraska Resources has published a brochure, "Nebraska's Water Story."

Because many industries require sizable quantities of water, industrial prospects frequently request information from the division on the state's water supply.

The new publication is designed to show them at a glance the mammoth underground reservoirs underlying most of the state, abundance of surface water and quality of available water in various areas.

In addition, it provides facts on Nebraska water laws, a capsule picture of the prevailing climate and a preview of the recreation facilities that await them in Nebraska.

Hanson Repeats 'No Intention' Of Quitting Democratic Post

Newcastle (AP)—Russell Hanson reiterated Thursday he does not intend to resign as Nebraska Democratic chairman.

Hanson said he received Thursday copies of a resolution adopted at a meeting of Democratic county chairmen and members of the state central committee in Grand Island Nov. 18.

One resolution calls for his resignation and that of National Committeeman Bernard Boyle.

'Not Impressed'

"I'm not too much impressed or concerned," Hanson said, "because this was not an official meeting of the party."

"I have no intention of resigning," he continued. "I am looking forward rather than backward. The election two years from now will be a presidential election, and I expect President Kennedy to be our candidate and I want to promote Democratic policies and the President's program."

Hanson previously had withheld comment pending receipt of the resolutions.

There has been speculation that party forces seeking to unseat Hanson and Boyle would seek a central committee meeting with plans for the committee in turn to call a special party convention.

Hanson said there usually are 4 to 6 central committee sessions a year, and that at the moment there is not enough business to call one. But he added, that he probably would call one in January with the location to depend on the weather. He said that for wintertime meetings Omaha is a logical site.

Hanson said he believes he is backed by a majority of the committee.

Peyote Users Receive Suspended Sentences

San Bernardino, Calif. (UPI) — Three Navajo Indians Thursday were found guilty of using peyote — a drug described as able to produce hallucinations — in religious ceremonies and given suspended prison sentences.

Superior Judge Carl B. Hilliard also placed the 3 men on probation for two years and they each agreed to refrain from further use of cactus narcotic during the period.

Jack Woody, 29, Dinnebito Trading Post, Ariz., Dan Dee Nez, 52, Ludlow, Calif., and Leon Anderson, Parker Dam, Calif., were arrested by sheriff's narcotics squad officers last April 28 in a raid on their hogan.

Downcast

The defendants stood with their arms folded and with downcast eyes as Judge Hilliard pronounced the sentence.

Defense attorney Rufus W. Johnson filed an immediate notice of appeal. Johnson said that he and Frank Takes Gun of Albuquerque, N.M., president of the Native Church of North America would seek legislation to grant the church an exception from laws forbidding use of peyote.

Johnson claimed the defendants and a group of some 30 other Indians were taking part in a religious ceremony and that their arrest was an abridgement of religious liberty guaranteed by the constitution.

Lack Of Time

Judge Hilliard expressed regret that lack of time prevented preparation of exhaustive opinion to deal with the "substantial issue" raised in the case.

He said however that it was the court's opinion that the prohibition imposed by the legislature "is properly within the police power of the state. The court must accept the legislative definition of peyote as a narcotic," he said.

The Indians said they were entitled to continue its use under privileges granted their organization but Judge Hilliard said the fact that they knew they were in possession of a narcotic "nullifies the defense argument that articles of incorporation authorizing sacramental use of peyote."

Not Narcotic

A defense witness from the University of California, Dr. Gordon A. Alles, testified during the trial that the drug does not fall under the category of a narcotic. He said a person under its influence experiences an increase in perception and stimulates good feeling between persons using the drug.

Under cross examination Dr. Alles admitted peyote is toxic in excessive amounts and that 10 grams of mescaline — derived from peyote — might be fatal.

Lincoln Crime Shows Above Average Jump

Serious crime is increasing in Lincoln, as it is throughout the country. And Lincoln's increase is above the average for cities of its size.

All serious crimes except auto theft increased in percentage in Lincoln for the first 9 months of 1962, compared with the same period in 1961, according to the Uniform Crime Report issued by the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Lincoln shows an increase of 100% for murder (none in 1961, one in 1962;, 250% for robbery (4 in 1961, 14 in 1962), 84% for aggravated assault (25 in 1961, 46 in 1962), 24% for burglary 245 in 1961, 304 in 1962), one per cent for larceny of $50 and over (252 in 1961, 255 in 1962), a decrease of 6% for auto theft (98 in 1961, 92 in 1962) and no increase or decrease for forcible rape (4 in 1961, 4 in 1962).

The average for other cities in Lincoln's population class of 100,000 to 250,000 shows increases of 4% for murder, 10% for rape, a decrease of one per cent for robbery, an increase of 4% for aggravated assault, 3% for burglary, 5% for larceny $50 and over, and 4% for auto theft.

Nationally, all crime categories show increases, with murder up one per cent, forcible rape up two per cent, aggravated assault up 4%, robbery up 5%, burglary up 3%, and larceny, $50 and over, up 6%.

CIVIL DEFENSE SLATES SIREN TESTS DEC. 7

On Dec. 7, 1941, the United States was caught off guard at Pearl Harbor.

So for Dec. 7, 1962, 21 years later, the Lincoln-Lancaster County Civil Defense Advisory Committee has set up a siren test.

The "take cover" signal, an up-and-down or wailing sound—the signal that would be given if an attack were imminent — will be sounded for 3 minutes, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

The CD office asks the cooperation of all citizens in the siren test by sending the office a letter or post card with the following information:

— Location at 7:30 p.m. Dec. 7, 1962;

— Whether sirens can be distinguished as the "take cover" signal.

—Whether sirens are heard clearly, poorly, or not heard.

A Late Surge Lifts Stocks

New York (AP) — An upward surge at the close lifted the stock market into the plus column Thursday. For almost the entire session, prices had been mixed.

There was no apparent special reason for the late improvement. Some market analysts have been anticipating a steady or lower trend or a "period of consolidation." A good many losers dotted the list Thursday.

Trading again moved along at the same speedy pace that has characterized the market since the middle of last week. Volume totaled 5.81 million shares compared with 5.98 million Wednesday, the busiest day in 5 weeks. Thursday was the sixth consecutive 5-million plus share session. There has been no similar peri-ers all day, perhaps the result of a break.

Rails were among the better performers alld ay, perhaps the result of a court finding they have the right to change work rules in a move to eliminate jobs they consider unnecessary. The rail stocks were fractionally higher. Other leaders included the electronics, mail order-retail, chemicals and rubbers.

Steels, rising from 1962 lows during the last week, fell back fractionally. Utilities, airlines and drugs also were a bit lower. Motors, aircrafts, metals, tobacand oils were irregular.

The market averages reflected the upside edge. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks gained .9 at 241.1 again the highest since 241.5 on May 16; with industrials and rails up 1.1 and utilities ahead .4.

The Dow Jones industrial average closed higher by .76 at 652.61 with its first plus reading of the day.

The 1,318 issues traded made the market the broadest since 1,320 were traded July 10. There were 655 stocks advancing, 427 declining and 236 unchanged. There were 23 new highs and no new lows for 1962.

American Stock Exchange prices were higher on volume of 1.66 million shares compared with 1.76 million Wednesday.

Corporate bonds slipped while U.S. government issues were mostly unchanged.

EVERYBODY'S MONEY:

Health Of Economy Depends On Sound Fiscal Practices

By Merryle S. Rukeyser

If the "Alliance for Progress" in Latin America is to achieve its high objectives, then American economic aid must be supplemented by the determination within relatively unoped countries to pursue prudent internal money policies.

Rukeyser

Political propaganda has obscured the realities by glib talk about the 'have" nations and the "have not." Unless there is a scientific diagnosis of how the "have not" nations got that way, little improvement can be accomplished. Post World War II Germany, which had been harried by recurrent inflation and goofy Nazi notions, made a miraculous and quick recovery when it turned to monetary discipline and respect for the open market principles.

Financial Doctor

Julien M. Saks, of Klein & Saks, Washington, D.C., has been a financial doctor for sick countries in Latin America and elsewhere. Mr. Saks' experience has demonstrated that when emotional people listen to demagogues, they invite trouble. "Education," Mr. Saks told me, "from proven sound principles and the failure to understand the significance of this deviation are among the most common mistakes of economically troubled economies. Therefore effective economic guidance can be meaningful to a nation with a depressed or inadequately developed economy only when it clearly recognizes and understands its economic plight and has concluded to take action that will offer the best hope of improving its condition.

"We have put emphasis always on the adoption and necessary implementation of corrective, sound measures as quickly as these are identified, rather than on the compilation of elaborately bound study reports, which frequently are not even read and most often become a part of some official's archives to gather bureaucratic dust."

After reciting his firm's participation in dealing with money pathology in Peru, Chile and Guatemala, Mr. Saks, in summing up, concluded: "An ill economy is a complex mechanism and what might be considered a first priority action in one country might not be so in another. There are many aspects to a successful corrective operation, even in relatively uncomplicated economies. We believe that working closely with local experts and citizens of competence and good faith on the problems themselves is essential. Implementation, at least of the core of the recommended actions without which nothing can be accomplished, will be more likely to occur with the cooperation of the host country's officials and technical experts. The confidence which the client and the local staff gain, as a result of a policy to expose its recommendations to the criticism of local groups, and to explain reasons for suggested but not always popular recommendations, in turn frequently gives the local Government the extra courage needed to carry out the reform program. If a plan of action is understood to be in the public's interest, resistance to its implementation is diminished as the necessity for its justification declines."

Many Facets

Illustrating technique by example of what was recently done in Guatemala, Mr. Saks said: "The problems which Klein & Saks was asked to look into in Guatemala in 1955 had many facets. President Carlos Castillo Armas had inherited a bankrupt treasury from his procommunist predecessor and an archaic public administration system that had become enmeshed in its own complexities. Invited by ICA (now AID) to assist in this effort, this firm undertook the role of the Government's economic counselor, with concentration on budget modernization, organization of the public administration service, the installation of new General Accounting systems, a complete re-orientation of the customs tariff, the encouragement of industrial development, the recommendation of fiscal and tax reforms (including a new income tax law and more efficient tax administration), and a redirection of economic planning. In each field we worked shoulder-to-shoulder with Guatemalan technicians and staff. Results became evident in every sector. The mission completed its Guatemalan work in 1959."

In the matter of restoring national economic health, Mr. Saks, basing his views on his firm's experience, declared: "The present strong emphasis on economic planning as an important concept in the accelerated development of a nation's resources is in sharp contrast with the groping efforts of many nations a decade a year ago toward the same objective. Yet these planning techniques alone cannot ensure healthy economic progress. Unless they are accompanied by realistic and sound fiscal and administrative practices on the part of the Government concerned, all other attempts to bring the economy into balance and achieve higher living standards, simply will be useless exercizes.

"Experience has shown that basic economic principles cannot be discarded or violated without accompanying or following penalties, in the attempt to accelerate economic development, regardless of the tempo which may be projected."

(Mr. Rukeyser will be pleased to receive inquiries from readers concerning their financial problems. Letters with self-addressed, stamped envelopes should be sent in care of The Lincoln Star. Questions of general interest will be answered in the column.)
